Sickal Jaycee of Year

Top awards presented Saturday night at the annual Jaycee installation banquet included the Outstanding Young Educator award given Gordon Beaver, high school choral music instructor, and the Outstanding Jaycee of the Year award to James D. Sickal. The banquet and dance were held at the Country Club.

President Bill Burch was introduced by retiring President John E. Harper.

Other officers installed were Charles Walls, first vice president; Ronnie Miller, second vice president; Frank Harp, secretary; Richard Schindler, treasurer, and Donnie Menkin and Jerry Burge, state representatives. Harold Kuehle and Jim Morrison, both state vice presidents from Cape Girardeau, swore in the group.

Additional awards made were a shining boot award to Jack Sides. Marshal Heisler won a contest over Leonard Campbell, Larry Miller and Don DeRouse, for the title of keeper of the rolls;

The outstanding new Jaycee award went to Frank Harp; the distinguished service award to Dr. William Dillon; and the exhausted rooster award to Joe Marsh.

Six persons were named for the Spoke award, and eight for the sparkplug award.

Retiring president Harper announced the Jaycees had a successful year, beginning in 1967 with a deficit of $12,000 all indebtedness has been liquidated and, he said, there is now a small balance.

The Jaycees took in $500 from light bulb sales, raised $150 to back Bill Burch as a national Jaycee director; made a $200 profit on a Battle of the Bands; $750 from horse show; $250 from duffers tourney; $107 from swimming pool; $14,000 from rodeo; $1,800 from tree of lights; $139 from sale of Valentine candy; $240 from Boy Scout exposition concessions; $30 from an auto show.

Other events included gifts to soldiers in Vietnam; organized basketball team; 4-H steer show; endorsed Connie Mack baseball tournament; Boys State candidates; donated blood to Matthews resident; conducted summer baseball league and sent two Boy Scouts to camp.

Losses included $72 from a boxing tournament; interest and taxes on the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo and a Halloween parade which was rained out.

New members added during the year were 35.

Charleston Man Wounded by Bullet

CAIRO--A 21-year-old Charleston, Mo., man was wounded by a bullet Saturday after a man was discovered pilfering an auto.

Richard L. Adams, the wounded man, was a patient in St. Mary's Hospital where he is listed in satisfactory condition.

Police said three other white youths, all from Charleston, were picked up and interrogated about the incident. They said Adams will be charged in connection with the theft of two stereo speakers and two cartridges of tape from an auto owned by Steve Owens, Barlow, Ky.

The stolen items were found by police in a field near where Adams fell after being struck by the bullet.

"Ab" Ransom, owner of the Turf Club, said he and others who were in the club had gone outside to check autos after Adams left the club about 2:30 a.m., today. He said several autos had been tampered with near the club recently.

As they checked a street alongside the club, Adams apparently became scared and ran. Ransom said he fired four times with a .38 caliber pistol. Adams was struck in the left hip by one of the bullets and was felled.

Police later halted a car containing the three other youths who had been with Adams. They told investigating officers they had driven around after leaving the Turf and Adams had asked them to let him out near the rear of the Turf Club, but did not indicate what he planned to do. They were to pick him up in a few minutes.

Lilbourn Man Killed

MARSTON - Charles Marlin Greer, 26, of Lilbourn was shot and killed at 6 p.m. Saturday at the Hollywood Courts tavern one mile north of here on highway 61.

Being held at New Madrid County jail in connection with the slaying is Wallace "Catfish" Carden, 38, of Lilbourn.

Witnesses said the two men had quarreled prior to the shooting.

Greer was shot five times with a small caliber revolver.

Carden turned himself in to Johnnie Martin, Lilbourn city marshal, after the shooting.

No charges have been filed. A coroner's inquest was held this afternoon at New Madrid.

Born July 14, 1941, at Matthews, Greer attended Lilbourn schools.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Greer, Lilbourn; two brothers, Marvin, King City, and Glenn, Lilbourn, and two sisters, Mrs. Nadine Holewa, Cicero, Ill., and Christine Greer, Lilbourn.

Services will be 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Assembly of God Church in Lilbourn. Burial will be in Mounds Park Cemetery near Lilbourn with Ponder Funeral Home of Lilbourn in charge.

Five Killed On Highways

Five were killed in two weekend accidents on Southeast Missouri highways.

Four were killed and six injured in a three-car accident 15 miles south of Fredericktown on highway 67 at 1:15 p.m. Sunday.

Killed were Jackie R. Dennis, 20, of Aberdeen, Md., and his twin nine-month old daughters, Donna Ann and Danna Marie, and Mrs. Dorothy Dale, 35, of Winfield.

Injured were Andrew Norrid, 33, and his wife, Mary, 28, St. Louis, both with back injuries; Mrs. Erna Dennis, 23, cuts and scrapes; Georgia Dale, 16, and Jacqueline Dale, 6, cuts and bruises, and Mary Dale, 15, fractured skull.

The injured were taken to the Fredericktown hospital, and Mrs. Dennis was transferred to a St. Louis hospital.

The highway patrol said the car driven by Jackie Dennis was passing another car. Andrew Norrid, driving an oncoming car, applied the car brakes and started to pull his car onto the shoulder.

The car driven by Mrs. Dale then hit the Norrid car in the rear, knocking it into a ditch, state troopers said. The Dale car and the Dennis car then collided.

Cletus Keller, 30, of Perryville was killed when his car ran off highway 25 one mile south of Dutchtown at 1 a.m. Saturday. The accident was not discovered until 11 a.m. Saturday.

Injured was James Thurston, 30, McBride, possible fractured back. He was taken to a Cape Girardeau hospital.

Dennis was traveling to Puxico to attend services for his paternal grandfather, Ed Dennis Sr., who reared him.

Dennis was born Aug. 14, 1947, near Bloomfield. He had returned from Germany where he was stationed with the army.

Survivors are his wife; his father, Ed Dennis Jr. of Grand Rapids, Mich.; his mother, Mrs. Clara Burdette, living in California; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillie May Dennis of Steelville; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gillespie of Bloomfield; two brothers, Caroll Dennis of Grand Rapids and David Dennis of Steelville; one sister, Linda Janette DuLaney of St. Louis.

Dennis' body and the bodies of his twin daughters are at the Watkins and Sons Funeral Home in Puxico.

Automobile Burned

WYATT -- At 5 a.m. Saturday a 1955 Ford automobile was burned in the Wyatt community east of Charleston.

Officers said the fire apparently was set by three Negro girls and a Negro man. Owner of the vehicle also was a Negro.

Falls Injure Three

Five were admitted to the emergency room of the Missouri Delta Community hospital over the weekend;

Treated Saturday were Janet M. Austin, Sikeston, car accident; Rhonda Kay Marks, East Prairie, fell in yard, cutting hand; and Kelly Diane Crabb, Sikeston, fell hitting chin, against coffee table.

Admitted Sunday were Narvell Hunt, New Madrid, stuck nail in bottom of left middle toe, and Darla Daugherty, Sikeston, fell from bicycle.

Food, Tobacco, Gum Stolen

NEW MADRID - Food, tobacco and chewing gum were taken in a breakin Saturday night at Halford's Freeze Queen on highway 61, sheriff's officers reported today.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass in a back door.

Taken were 10 pounds of bananas, two boxes of cigars, 12 cartons of cigarettes, 12 cartons of gum and two quarts of chocolate mix.

Duisen Granted Execution Stay

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Supreme Court today granted a 30-day stay of execution to Theodore Anthony Duisen who had been scheduled to die in Missouri's gas chamber April 19 for the strangling death of Patricia Sutterfield, 17. Her body was found in the Meramec River in May 1964.

Duisen's attorney requested the stay for time to file an additional appeal. He said the death sentence was "cruel and unusual punishment and, further, that the method and means of jury selection in capital cases denies appellant equal protection under the laws."

ARLINE AVERY PRESENTS showmanship awards to Joe Myers, Canalou, and Kathy Kem, Matthews, at the 23rd annual 4-H Market Barrow show in New Madrid.

Matthews Girl Wins Award

BY H. H. TOWNSEND JR.

NEW MADRID - Kathy Kem of Matthews took the grand champion award Saturday at the 23rd annual 4-H Market Barrow Show. Her Hampshire hog weighed 198 pounds.

The grand champion brought 85 cents a pound. Donald Bohannon, president of the First National Bank of Sikeston, purchased it.

Reserve Champion honors went to Frances Jones of New Madrid with her 210 pound Berkshire hog. The reserve champion was sold for 50 cents a pound, and was purchased by Tom Furg Hunter of Bootheel Gin Company Inc.

Miss Kem's entry placed first in the lightweight division and Miss Jones' entry placed first in the ideal division.

Miss Kem also won the showmanship award in the girls division. Joe Myers of Canalou won the showmanship award in the boys division. They were each presented a trophy furnished by the Bank of New Madrid and New Madrid Tractor and Implement Co.

In the judging prior to the selection of the grand champion and reserve champion, first and second selections were made in four classes.

Placing first and second in the lightweight class for hogs weighing 180 to 200 pounds were Miss Kem and Paul Wayne Johnson of Canalou.

Frances Jones had the number one entry in the ideal division and Wayne Kem of Matthews was runner up. Hogs in this class weighed 201-230 pounds.

Myers was first and Carless Malloy second in the medium weight division for hogs weighing 231-250 pounds. Both are members of the Canalou 4-H Club.

In the heavyweight category, for hogs weighing 251 pounds and up, Barbara Haubold, Marston, was first and Janet Hulshof of the Shamrock 4-H Club was second.

Crawford Price, University of Missouri Extension Director of Ripley county, judged the show.

Auctioneers for the event were Joe Beck, Floyd Matthews and Dwight Vaughn.

Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

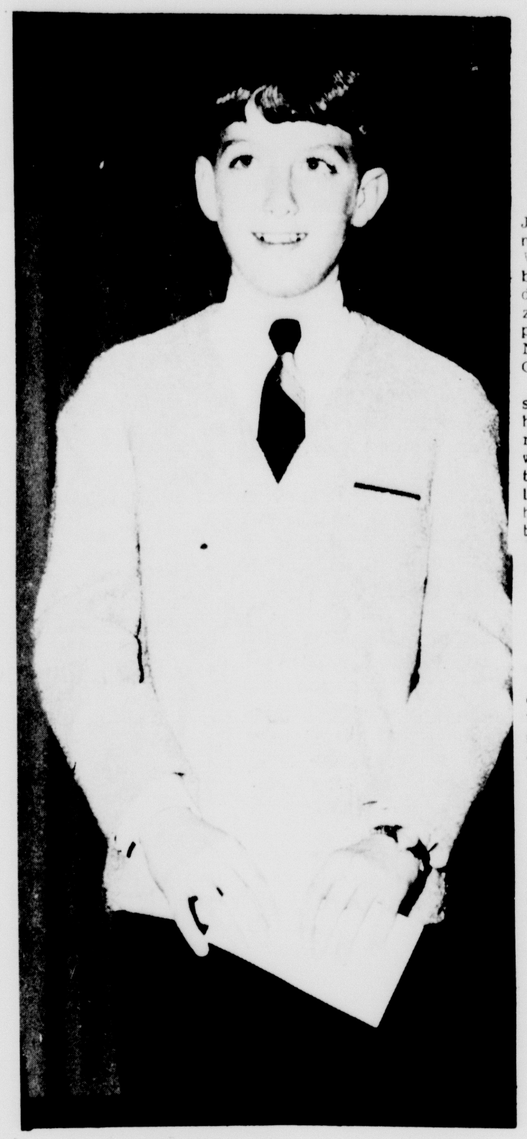

The Junior Woman's Club annaul Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday morning at Malone Park.

Children will be divided into three age groups and will hunt for eggs at three separate times. The assembly point will be at the bandstand west of the A & P store.

Children three years old and younger will hunt between 9 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Tots from 4 to 6 will hunt from 10 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. and children from 7 to 10 will hunt from 11 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

Three prizes will be awarded in each age group to the one who finds the golden egg and the two that find the most eggs.

Mrs. Joanie Stoner and Miss Kathy Old are co-chairmen of the event. A small admission charge will be asked of parents whose children wish to participate.

HAL MARK MCDONALD, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McDonald of Matthews, won first place in the third annual talent and variety show Saturday.

Matthews Boy Tops in Talent

Hal Mark McDonald, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McDonald of Matthews, won first place in the third annual talent and variety show Saturday night at the junior high school. It was sponsored by the Junior Woman's club.

The young piano soloist won with a medley of songs, "Love is Blue", and "Love is a Many Splendored Thing." He won a trip to the Mid-South Fair in Memphis and $35 cash.

Second place went to The Ramblers, a folk trio, who won a prize of $25. Third award went to the Newfound Six, folk singers, with a prize of $15.

Richard Pinkerton, city manager, was a guest soloist at intermission and sang "My Serenade" and "This Is All I Ask", with Mrs. Jo Ann Fox as accompanist.

Dan Norton was master of ceremonies. The 22 contestants included the following:

The Grass Zeppelin, a band; Jan Lea Helems, piano solo; Linda Engram, vocal and dance; The Ramblers, folk trio; Hal Mark McDonald, piano solo; Terry Ture, vocal; The Soul Seekers, band; Tommy Merick, clown dance; The Cousins Three; Ossie and Earl Hubbard, vocal solo; Mary Etta Tucker, piano solo;

The Innocents Children, band; Deborah McClellon, vocal; Cindy Greenwood, piano solo; The Classmates, duo novelty; The Pickett Fence, band; The Neumodrians, vocal group; Charlest Mitchell, vocal solo; Debbie Collins, tap dance; The Reflections, vocalist group; Ann Merick, acrobatic ballet; and The Newfound Six, folk singers.

Kindergarten Enrollment Set

Pre-enrollment for children, who wish to attend the public school kindergarten, next fall will be held in each elementary school April 19 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

In order to be enrolled a child must be five on or before Sept. 15, 1968.

Parents should bring their kindergarten child's immunization record and birth certificate with them, Robert G. Miller, director of elementary education, said. Required immunizations are polio, diptheria, and smallpox.

Parents may indicate a preference for the morning or afternoon session but school officials will make assignments based on bus routes and other factors.

Parents need not bring their youngsters with them to enroll.

"It is important for parents to enroll their children in kindergarten," Miller said. "Much of the work done by first grade teachers will be completed in kindergarten. Children who do not attend kindergarten will be several months behind those who attend."

The kindergarten program will be conducted at two centers, one in the first two buildings on the south side of the Airport campus and the other at the Morehouse elementary school for children who live in that area. The fall term will begin on or about Aug. 28.

ELECTED TO HIS THIRD year as mayor is Kendall Sikes, right. He is congratulated by Vice Mayor Arthur Ziegenhorn.

Bombing Area Reduced

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson has put almost 5,500 more square miles of North Vietnam off limits to American bombers, U.S. sources said today. Below the demilitarized zone, allied ground forces reported killing more than 700 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in weekend fighting.

Informed sources in Saigon said the American air forces have been told to keep their raids below the 19th Parallel, which is about 170 miles above the demilitarized zone. In the last four days U.S. bombers have struck no farther north than 160 miles above the DMZ.

Highlights and Sidelights from Our State Capitol

Jefferson City, Mo. -- A decision is expected this week on whether Missouri or the federal government will inspect the state's meat packing industry, a spokesman for Agriculture Commissioner Dexter D. Davis says.

Critics of an all-federal program in Missouri fear "unnecessary" closing of some 40 small meat packers as one consequence of what they call "creeping federalism."

The federal Wholesome Meat Act, recently made law, gives states two years to build their own meat inspection programs, or federal inspectors will step in. State standards must at least equal those of the U. S. government.

Missouri now has 30 state meat inspectors who have all been trained at federally inspected meat plants in Missouri by federal instructors at no state expense.

This constitutes the state's meat inspection program built in anticipation of federal meat legislation. It became law four months ago.

But, with only 30 inspectors, the state program is severely crippled. Davis has said he may abandon state inspection to Washington if he doesn't get money for inspectors. The Agriculture Commissioner said he wanted to talk with Gov. Warren E. Hearnes before he reached a decision. The final decision rests with the Governor.

Davis asked the Missouri Legislature during the last special session for 110 inspectors at $500 per month per man. Action in the Senate gave the Agriculture Department 25 inspectors for fiscal year 1969, at about the present $350 per month per man.

Senate opinion feared eventual federal domination of state-meat inspection. "It is possible the Department did not adequately inform the Senate of the conditions," Frank Erickson, Agriculture press secretary says.

The Wholesome Meat Act provides for a state-federal partnership in meat inspection, the two partners splitting major costs down the middle.

Our responsibility in the Agriculture Department," Erickson said, "is to assure the Senate that primary control of meat inspection will remain with the state" in this case.

But detailed rules and regulations for the partnership have not yet been announced from Washington, Erickson said.

That's one reason Dexter Davis was in Washington last week. He has been appointed to the 17-member Meat Inspection Advisory Committee created recently by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. The committee, which had its first meeting March 27, is to promote state-federal coordination in meat and meat products inspection.

Davis was expected to find out how the state-federal association is to work.

The shared burden could add 25 inspectors to the 1969 state staff. "That means the state program could get by for another year with a total of 50 inspectors, although we could not be as effective or grow as rapidly as we would like," Erickson said.

Missouri inspectors currently work in 54 meat packing plants scattered in the state's larger cities. The goal, Erickson says, is state inspection at 200 of Missouri's 534 plants.

The federal government already inspects meat in 56 state plants. Local city inspectors are in 96 plants.

Plans are near completion to begin inspection in many of Missouri's poultry plants, starting in St. Louis. A survey is now underway to see how many poultry inspectors and processors will be involved.

Erickson said the Department hopes, with federal cooperation, to have 110 inspectors at work in 1970.

"We fought like crazy for more inspectors for 1969," Erickson said, "because we feel the state, and not the federal government, is best equipped to control its own meat inspection."

Frances Jones had the number one entry in the ideal division and Wayne Kem of Matthews was runner up. Hogs in this class weighed 201-230 pounds.

Myers was first and Carless Malloy second in the medium weight division for hogs weighing 231-250 pounds. Both are members of the Canalou 4-H Club.

In the heavyweight category, for hogs weighing 251 pounds and up, Barbara Haubold, Marston, was first and Janet Hulshof of the Shamrock 4-H Club was second.

Crawford Price, University of Missouri Extension Director of Ripley county, judged the show.

Auctioneers for the event were Joe Beck, Floyd Matthews and Dwight Vaughn.

Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The Junior Woman's Club annaul Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday morning at Malone Park.

Children will be divided into three age groups and will hunt for eggs at three separate times. The assembly point will be at the bandstand west of the A & P store.

Children three years old and younger will hunt between 9 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Tots from 4 to 6 will hunt from 10 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. and children from 7 to 10 will hunt from 11 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

Three prizes will be awarded in each age group to the one who finds the golden egg and the two that find the most eggs.

Mrs. Joanie Stoner and Miss Kathy Old are co-chairmen of the event. A small admission charge will be asked of parents whose children wish to participate.

HAL MARK MCDONALD, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McDonald of Matthews, won first place in the third annual talent and variety show Saturday.

Matthews Boy Tops in Talent

Hal Mark McDonald, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McDonald of Matthews, won first place in the third annual talent and variety show Saturday night at the junior high school. It was sponsored by the Junior Woman's club.

The young piano soloist won with a medley of songs, "Love is Blue", and "Love is a Many Splendored Thing." He won a trip to the Mid-South Fair in Memphis and $35 cash.

Second place went to The Ramblers, a folk trio, who won a prize of $25. Third award went to the Newfound Six, folk singers, with a prize of $15.

Richard Pinkerton, city manager, was a guest soloist at intermission and sang "My Serenade" and "This Is All I Ask", with Mrs. Jo Ann Fox as accompanist.

Dan Norton was master of ceremonies. The 22 contestants included the following:

The Grass Zeppelin, a band; Jan Lea Helems, piano solo; Linda Engram, vocal and dance; The Ramblers, folk trio; Hal Mark McDonald, piano solo; Terry Ture, vocal; The Soul Seekers, band; Tommy Merick, clown dance; The Cousins Three; Ossie and Earl Hubbard, vocal solo; Mary Etta Tucker, piano solo;

The Innocents Children, band; Deborah McClellon, vocal; Cindy Greenwood, piano solo; The Classmates, duo novelty; The Pickett Fence, band; The Neumodrians, vocal group; Charlest Mitchell, vocal solo; Debbie Collins, tap dance; The Reflections, vocalist group; Ann Merick, acrobatic ballet; and The Newfound Six, folk singers.

Kindergarten Enrollment Set

Pre-enrollment for children, who wish to attend the public school kindergarten, next fall will be held in each elementary school April 19 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

In order to be enrolled a child must be five on or before Sept. 15, 1968.

Parents should bring their kindergarten child's immunization record and birth certificate with them, Robert G. Miller, director of elementary education, said. Required immunizations are polio, diptheria, and smallpox.

Parents may indicate a preference for the morning or afternoon session but school officials will make assignments based on bus routes and other factors.

Parents need not bring their youngsters with them to enroll.

"It is important for parents to enroll their children in kindergarten," Miller said. "Much of the work done by first grade teachers will be completed in kindergarten. Children who do not attend kindergarten will be several months behind those who attend."

The kindergarten program will be conducted at two centers, one in the first two buildings on the south side of the Airport campus and the other at the Morehouse elementary school for children who live in that area. The fall term will begin on or about Aug. 28.

Bombing Area Reduced

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson has put almost 5,500 more square miles of North Vietnam off limits to American bombers, U.S. sources said today. Below the demilitarized zone, allied ground forces reported killing more than 700 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in weekend fighting.

Informed sources in Saigon said the American air forces have been told to keep their raids below the 19th Parallel, which is about 170 miles above the demilitarized zone. In the last four days U.S. bombers have struck no farther north than 160 miles above the DMZ.

Highlights and Sidelights from Our State Capitol

Jefferson City, Mo. -- A decision is expected this week on whether Missouri or the federal government will inspect the state's meat packing industry, a spokesman for Agriculture Commissioner Dexter D. Davis says.

Critics of an all-federal program in Missouri fear "unnecessary" closing of some 40 small meat packers as one consequence of what they call "creeping federalism."

The federal Wholesome Meat Act, recently made law, gives states two years to build their own meat inspection programs, or federal inspectors will step in. State standards must at least equal those of the U. S. government.

Missouri now has 30 state meat inspectors who have all been trained at federally inspected meat plants in Missouri by federal instructors at no state expense.

This constitutes the state's meat inspection program built in anticipation of federal meat legislation. It became law four months ago.

But, with only 30 inspectors, the state program is severely crippled. Davis has said he may abandon state inspection to Washington if he doesn't get money for inspectors. The Agriculture Commissioner said he wanted to talk with Gov. Warren E. Hearnes before he reached a decision. The final decision rests with the Governor.

Davis asked the Missouri Legislature during the last special session for 110 inspectors at $500 per month per man. Action in the Senate gave the Agriculture Department 25 inspectors for fiscal year 1969, at about the present $350 per month per man.

Senate opinion feared eventual federal domination of state-meat inspection. "It is possible the Department did not adequately inform the Senate of the conditions," Frank Erickson, Agriculture press secretary says.

The Wholesome Meat Act provides for a state-federal partnership in meat inspection, the two partners splitting major costs down the middle.

Our responsibility in the Agriculture Department," Erickson said, "is to assure the Senate that primary control of meat inspection will remain with the state" in this case.

But detailed rules and regulations for the partnership have not yet been announced from Washington, Erickson said.

That's one reason Dexter Davis was in Washington last week. He has been appointed to the 17-member Meat Inspection Advisory Committee created recently by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. The committee, which had its first meeting March 27, is to promote state-federal coordination in meat and meat products inspection.

Davis was expected to find out how the state-federal association is to work.

The shared burden could add 25 inspectors to the 1969 state staff. "That means the state program could get by for another year with a total of 50 inspectors, although we could not be as effective or grow as rapidly as we would like," Erickson said.

Missouri inspectors currently work in 54 meat packing plants scattered in the state's larger cities. The goal, Erickson says, is state inspection at 200 of Missouri's 534 plants.

The federal government already inspects meat in 56 state plants. Local city inspectors are in 96 plants.

Plans are near completion to begin inspection in many of Missouri's poultry plants, starting in St. Louis. A survey is now underway to see how many poultry inspectors and processors will be involved.

Erickson said the Department hopes, with federal cooperation, to have 110 inspectors at work in 1970.

"We fought like crazy for more inspectors for 1969," Erickson said, "because we feel the state, and not the federal government, is best equipped to control its own meat inspection."

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Now that President Johnson has declared himself a non-candidate for re-election, we hope that the Republicans do nominate "Tricky" Dick Nixon. We have some place to go now.

One of the gratifying aspects of recent political developments in this country is that inflation isn't the threat that it was six months ago.

It is true that Congress has not passed a tax increase bill, which many economists say it is needed but the Johnson administration has expressed a willingness to sharply reduce domestic spending.

This has been a requirement that Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat, has insisted upon before he would recommend any tax increases. Mills is chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee through which tax legislation is handled in the House.

The inflation battle isn't won. Too much emphasis is being placed on money management through the federal reserve board and international monetary organizations. But the outlook is now more hopeful for restraint than it has been in the recent past.

The federal government has a commanding role in controlling inflation. Cooperation by business and labor is desirable but it is secondary.

"The real job of keeping inflation in bounds is up to government monetary and fiscal policy makers," writes Edwin L. Dale Jr. in the New York Times magazine. "It is not painless. Who likes to pay higher taxes? What about the problems of the slums? But it can be done.

"If we want to stop inflation, the place to look is not at unions or steel corporations or doctors or barbers, but at the White House and Capitol Hill. Only they can curb total demand.

"Fortunately the government taken as a whole, is well aware of the situation, and its record has not been bad. It knows that serious inflation is not at all inevitable in the United States, despite the current inflation psychology and state of pessimism. The days of absolute price stability, even as a target, are gone forever, but that does not mean that we are condemned to an age of inflation."

White may be correct in reporting that government by and large has taken steps to control inflation but it has not always acted as rapidly to do it as economists believed to be desirable.

Politics interfere and this is especially true in a presidential election year.

Fortunately President Lynson B. Johnson is no longer under any personal compulsion to make decisions based on their political merit alone.

His decision not to seek the presidential office again gives him a freer hand to act according to the national needs.

If the office of United States Senator from Missouri can be bought, candidate True Davis made a substantial down payment at the Jackson Day event in Springfield last weekend. Those arriving for the occasion were greeted by a fleet of chartered "courtesy" buses, bearing large full-color pictures of Mr. Davis smiling benignly at the world. And if you didn't want to ride a bus, well, you could whistle up one of the seven shiny new station wagons Mr. Davis brought in for the occasion.

He had an airplane too. It flew over Springfield Friday night with his name in lights. The whole thing would have been funny if it had not been for such things as a free liquor get together bulled as a "SWING-IN FOR TRUE - Main Ball Room of the Holiday Inn - 9:00 P. M. to 1:00 A.M. - Ballroom Dancing and Refreshments, Featuring Bill Frichette and Orchestra." At this affair there was plenty of swinging, swaying and staggering too. In addition there were arguments, fights and brawls and some of the guests couldn't "stay the course" and passed out on the lawn. Among other things, numerous coats were stolen.

Mr. Davis' approach was well summed up by the "spontaneous demonstration" his followers staged when he was introduced at the Saturday night dinner.

For the other candidates there were small bands and enthusiastic supporters, shouting their affection for their man; Mr. Davis hired and imported a Negro marching band which performed dutifully.

Some accused Davis of attempting to "buy" the Senate nomination. Davis denied this allegation and said he was attempting only to make his name known, yet "with good taste".

In our opinion, the whole affair was shameful and was purely a vulgar display of wealth. It was NOT in "good taste".

It's Like This . . . In New Orleans, cops found Lawrence Dorsey sitting in a parked automobile behind a suburban bank, locked him up despite his protestations that one of his two loaded pistols was a war souvenir and he just didn't know where the other one had come from.

Four hundred and forty children below high school age were killed and nearly 27,000 were injured during 1965, primarily because they were thrown with little or no training into a dangerous environment that demands a high degree of skill to avoid death.

Parents, in many cases glad to be partially rid of the job of family "chauffeur", allow their children, sometimes as young as age four, to operate bicycles in congested traffic areas as soon as the youngsters are physically capable of doing so.

Police, unwilling to take on the extra workload of supervising and controlling this practice, usually turn their backs and don't even enforce basic traffic laws on such youthful offenders.

How many times have you seen a child ride his bike through a stop sign or stop light or around gates that are down for an approaching train? Millions of youngsters violate these laws many times a day in this country, and yet, how many times have you ever seen one of these offenders pulled over or arrested by police?

Most police chiefs will tell you, "Sure, this is a problem. But where am I supposed to get the manpower to enforce traffic laws on bicyclers?"

Elementary school principals also acknowledge the problem, but add, "Where are we supposed to get the money to set up a bicycle-driver education course?"

Parents say, "Sure it's a problem, but how can I keep a bike away from Junior when all his friends are riding them? Besides, he wouldn't obey traffic laws just because I told him to."

Meanwhile, between the day this was written and the day you are reading, 35 more children have met death while riding their bicycles.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society needs our help! The 1963 MS Hope Chest campaign of the Scott County Chapter is currently under way. It is the annual drive to raise funds for research, patient services and professional and public education.

Multiple sclerosis is a century-old disease but still the cause and cure remain unknown. In MS, the myelin sheath or protective coating of the nerve fibers deteriorates. Scars form and the nerve impulses do not get through to activate muscles to perform their tasks properly.

MS is usually a slow crippler but a progressive one.

The MS Society is the only nation-wide voluntary organization dedicated to work for MS. Since its founding in 1946, it has been a steadily growing force in promoting research into the cause, alleviation and control of MS.

This year the Society has budgeted $1,300,000 for research. The first vial of Salk vaccine is said to have cost $25 million, but who can question the worth of that expenditure? The research program of the Society brings hope to the estimated 500,000 Americans who suffer from MS and related disease. Won't you be generous when the MS volunteer calls?

The National Association of Manufacturers has noted, "American industry is concerned over the proposed federal legislation which would give to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission powers comparable to those assumed by the National Labor Relations Board in regulating industry. The commission presently has ample avenues at its command to encourage business and industry to live up to the spirit of the law. Since remarkable progress is being made, further federal mandate is neither necessary or helpful. Less government control helps create the climate which makes more job opportunities possible."

NEW YORK (AP) - Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You'd never guess it by looking at her-because she doesn't like to show her age-but the average U. S. working woman is getting older. She's 40 now. In most cases she's got a husband, too. Over 57 per cent of working women are married.

And old saying goes, "It ain't what you want that makes you fat - it's what you eat." What you eat also makes you smart. Scientists now link imparied intelligence and slow learning ability with malnutrition in early childhood.

Prosperity note: Some 79 per cent of American families now own automobiles, and 25.1 per cent have two or more.

Sometime this year the nation's trucks and passenger vehicles will reach the 1500 million mark, or one for every two persons. Only four automobiles were registered in the United States in 1895. And here's an irony, in 1904 only two cars were registered in Kansas City - and these two had a collision.

CUSSERS AND DOUBTERS

President Johnson's speech writer did a dilly a few days back when he had the chief pitchman for the Great Society hoping for the day when "the cussers and the doubters will be relegated to the rear. . ."

Those two classifications take in a lot of territory and manpower these days. If the White House press corps is to be believed, President Johnson himself is a candidate for membership. It's a prerogative of Presidents that they can't be quoted verbatim unless an official transcript is put together with a figurative ribbon and seal on it; otherwise, so we hear, a lot of family newspapers would be using dots, dashes and asterisks to record the Texan's more pithy comments on certain of his enemies and erstwhile friends.

For our part, we're willing to have the cussers "relegated to the rear," whatever their station in life. Cussers don't make good newspaper copy since they rarely contribute anything original or clever. But the President's speech writer notwithstanding, there is a place for cussers in the Great Society. The cartoonists' caricature of the cusser is the man who clobbers a thumb with a hammer while hanging a picture of his President, or his mother-in-law. But we live in an age when Big Brother in Washington clobbers the poor guy on both thumbs and at least a like number of fingers with regularity, just to remind him who is boss. And after so much clobbering, a cusser response is inevitable.

As for the doubters, the rear is generously peopled with those already. Most of the citizenry is hanging back in its enthusiasm for some of the Great Society measures that we can think of. They're doubters -- about the War on Poverty, McNamara, the surtax on taxes, building bridges to Moscow, embracing Kosygin, shipping food to Communist countries, the UN and foreign aid.

Indeed, the polls indicate an increasing number of doubers about President Johnson himself. He made a reputation as a whiz in Congress where he was wheeling and dealing with his own element. But leading the country has been another matter.

Perhaps it all goes to prove something we heard many years ago, to the effect that no horse trader ever made a success of running a livery stable.

May it applies to the Great Society, too.

LITERAL HOOSIERS

Some people take things much too literally. There is the story about the farmer whose barn burned down. He called his insurance company and asked for a check for $1,000.

"Oh, we don't pay off our claims in cash, sir," the company explained. "Under our policy of replacing things, we'll build you an identical barn."

"Well, okay on the barn," the farmer agreed, "but if that's the way you settle claims, you can just cancel the insurance policy on my wife!"

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON AND JACK ADERSON SAY: LBJ's meeting with RFK was quietly dramatic; LBJ's aloofness on Humphrey candidacy didn't shock him; he understands President's problems.

WASHINGTON -- High drama swirled publicly around the White House last week. High drama also moved inside the White House as the President held a meeting with the brother of the late President who has publicly labeled him a national disaster; then with the vice president who may oppose Bobby Kennedy; then with the cabinet.

The meeting with Senator Kennedy and his adviser, Ted Sorensen, both entering by the side door, was without fireworks. The President had not been happy over Bobby's charge that he, Lyndon Johnson, had been responsible for dop addiction among students and for draft - card burnings. He had been hurt over Bobby's charge that he had torn the country to pieces.

But he did not say anything when Bobby entered. Instead they sat down across the room from the President's desk, Bobby and Sorensen on the sofa which had been there since the days of JFK, the President in the big rocking chair which he had adopted ever since John F. Kennedy's death.

The President called for a map of North Vietnam and proceeded to brief the senator on the bombing pause, explaining why he had aroused the wrath of Sen. Bill Fulbright, D-Ark., by continuing to bomb up to the 20th parallel.

He explained that Fulbright had been briefed by Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford on Sunday, before the President's fireside chat. Clifford had gone out to Fulbright's home to tell him exactly what was going to happen, and explain that bombing would have to continue along the supply routes into the southern corridor of North Vietnam, otherwise American troops would be endangered.

Fulbright had telephoned the President after the speech to congratulate him, but later blasted LBJ in the press, denouncing the bombing pause as a deceptive sham. The President seemed to think Fulbright had rejected the proposal on behalf of Ho Chi Minh, who later accepted it.

CLARK CLIFFORD'S PLAN

Johnson pointed out on the map the manner in which North Vietnamese supplies were coming down the long corridor adjacent to Laos, then slipping across the Laotian border to be smuggled into South Vietnam later.

"I got together with some of my best advisers, including Arthur Goldberg," the President said. "We figured we had to keep bombing this corridor. Clark Clifford has been working on this plan day and night. Nick Katzenbach urged that my speech not be in the form of an ultimatum. We are ready to follow up any overture."

He also showed Bobby that 78 per cent of North Vietnamese territory and 90 per cent of the population would be exempt from bombing, including the streets of Haiphong, which he said were now stacked with war supplies.

The President did most of the talking. Bobby did not interrupt. At the end of the briefing, the young candidate who had been trying to defeat the man who is now bowing out as President, asked the President what his political plans were.

The President made it clear that he was going to remain aloof from the political rivalries of the candidates -- for the time being.

"I'm not interested in this job for the salary," he said, "nor for the social activities."

There were a few more polite exchanges. Kennedy and Sorensen bowed out.

HHH AND LBJ

A few minutes later, vice president Humphrey came in. He and Johnson have become extremely close. Not always has it been this way. At first there were minor irritations between them. But the President has been increasingly grateful for Humphrey's devotion, especially recently when the going was rough. Last fall the President had said in the presence of Mrs. Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk, and Humphrey that he was not going to run again, and that he considered retiring early to let Hubert take over so as to get a head start on the Presidency.

He added, however, that this would look like a deal, so instead he would throw his weight to Hubert to corral delegates at the Democratic national convention.

With this background, the two men met last week. But now the President explained that he felt he must remain aloof from the political arena. It was best for national unity and the goal of peace.

It was not entirely a shock to the vice president. He had an inkling of what was on the President's mind. Earlier he had known of his deep worry of disunity in the nation.

"The board of directors isn't satisfied with the management," the President had confided. "The shareholders aren't happy. I think I could get nominated. I think I could be re-elected. But what's the use of leading a country which is divided, where the congress won't pass a tax bill, where we're facing devaluation of our currency, where white men are against black, the Irish against the Jews, and where the press distorts everything you do? If I recited the Lord's prayer, Newsweek would say that I didn't do it right."

The vice president knew how hard the President had worked, how hard he had tried to improve the nation's health. He knew how many avenues he had explored for peace, how hard he had tried to cooperate with the congress, how many times he had summoned congressional groups and the governors of states to the White House for conferences.

He understood the President's mood. He was not surprised or hurt at the news that he would remain aloof from political combat.

From their talk together, the President and the vice President stepped into the cabinet room for the first dramatic meeting with the cabinet after the news that Johnson would not run again. An account of this meeting will be published tomorrow.

A man will remain a rag-picker as long as he has only the vision of a rag-picker. We should have ambition to do our best, and refuse to accept our second best. Doing easy things does not tax us, neither does it challenge us. It is a good plan to make it a point to tackle one hard job every day. If we do this, we will find that we have exercised our will power, our minds, and our bodies to good purpose. One of the rewards of learning to do hard things is the capacity for doing still harder things.

H.L. Hunt Says

THE AIRBORNS DETERRENT TO AGGRESSION

The Strategic Air Command plays a key role in the defense of the United States. At all times its planes are in the air, ready to strike back if this country is attacked, thus deterring would-be aggressors. U. S. citizens should be alarmed that serious consideration is being given to ending the Strategic Air Command's "airborne alert."

This proposal grew out of the propaganda outcry which occurred two years ago when a S.A.C. bomber lost four H-bombs off the cost of Spain. It intensified this year when a B-52 S.A.C. bomber carrying H-bombs crashed in Greenland. The communist press and Farleft writers spread alarmist stories about the danger of these bombs. Pressure was brought to bear on our government to ground all H-bomb carrying planes.

The fact that these bombs were not armed and therefore harmless was lost in the propaganda barrage. The obvious motive of the communists in urging the U. S. to surrender part of its nuclear deterrent was ignored.

The Defense Department's annual report to the Senate Armed Services Committee on January 22 emphasized the importance of the S.A.C. airborne alert. The report stated that a mixed striking force of missiles and armed bombers was absolutely essential. Missile sites on the ground might be destroyed in a nuclear attack, yet airborne bombers would remain safe to deliver a counter-attack. This "second-strike" potential deters nuclear war.

It is playing into the hands of the enemy for our country to allow misleading propaganda to determine its course of action. The nation's safety hinges on a strong deterrent force, and this deterrent force requires the airborne alert of the Strategic Air Command. HLH

Longshoremen to Boycott Swedish Ships Until Stockholm Ousts U. S. Army Deectors

New York: -- American Longshoremen are preparing to put their "hook" into Sweden in retaliation against Stockholm's warm hospitality towards 28 U. S. military defectors.

The dockwallopers' hook is a mightly effective invisible weapon -- the boycott. It could cost the Swedish government and its ultrasophisticated industrial complex hundreds of millions of dollars as long as the regime welcomes U. S. deserters.

The Longshoremen leaders plan, simply to ask their 110,000 pier workers to the U. S. and Canada to refuse to unload Swedish imports -- especially cars. Swedish cars rank fourth in foreign car sales in the U. S. In 1966, Sweden sold 56,500 autos here.

While the primary target of the longshoremen's two-coast boycott would be the Swedish car industry, pickets could also cripple another $275 million worth of imports from that land as well as tie up Swedish shipping and air lines.

"It's a hell of a thing to encourage the desertion of American soldiers," snapped International Longshoremen's Assn. (AFL-CIO) President Teddy Gleason who has some mighty muscle to flex at home and abroad.

"It's one matter to give sanctuary or asylum to political defectors, but it's another to see the Swedish people encourage defections from our armed forces at a time like this, and to learn that they provide the deserters with homes, and that there are private organizations which even offer them living allowances, girls and homes. Why, then, should we encourage those who encourage the weakening of our army? Why should we help their economy?

"We can hurt and we plan to do just that."

In a few days, Gleason will call his vice presidents together for an official directive. A poll of some of these men reveals they're ready to launch the boycott.

It will take several weeks after the decision before the boycott apparatus can swing into action. The longshoremen in such direct "job actions" work from master lists, bills of lading and other information from their global intelligence network.

Think what you will of their right to affect foreigh commerce or to make foreign policy -- but don't think for a moment these longshoremen haven't the power to do both. They have.

They're still boycotting Soviet ships. They still won't unload cargoes from the USSR even when transshipped is more politically neutral bottoms.

The American longshoremen are the pivotal power in the London-based, 6.5 million-member International Transportworkers Federation (ITF) -- a network of transport unions throughout the free world.

Recently this international transport "secretariat" wanted to hit the military junta in Greece with a short but paralyzing protest transport strike. ITF's General Secretary, Hans Imhof, write, cable and telephoned Gleason. In effect, he said that the Greek government would not be impressed, not would the boycott be effective unless the American longshoremen refused to unload Greek flag ships.

Gleason angered Imhof, first by ignoring his appeal and then by telling him during a transatlantic telephone conversation that he was not going to jump on the "bandwagon," and then by saying that boycott of the Greek military government was against U. S. State Dept. policy.

Gleason and his colleagues still smart from the disdainful slap they got from the ITF when the U. S. longshoremen urged a global boycott of Cuba and North Vietnam. Why, asked Gleason the other day, should they have turned us down then and now come to us for action against a friendly government?

Without the ILA's assistance, there was no boycott, short or long, of Athens' shipping fleets, railroads or airlines.

This, of course, is a measure of the same power long encountered by several American presidents, the U. S. State Department, far-flung American industries, and many port city governments. It was the ILA's boycott of copper imports last month which forced President Johnson to call in both sides in the seven month copper and nonferrous metal strike.

It was the ILA's closing of New York Harbor which forced two powerful governors, Nelson Rockefeller and Richard Hughes, to back down from their pressure to "license" new longshoremen unwanted by the union.

It is the ILA's preparations, beginning now, for Atlantic and Gulf coast contract negotiations late this summer, which is worrying the White House.

So a boycott of Swedish imports hardly is a problem to the dockers. It begins to look like each U. S. military defector will cost Sweden millions of dollars a man.

One of the gratifying aspects of recent political developments in this country is that inflation isn't the threat that it was six months ago.

It is true that Congress has not passed a tax increase bill, which many economists say it is needed but the Johnson administration has expressed a willingness to sharply reduce domestic spending.

This has been a requirement that Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat, has insisted upon before he would recommend any tax increases. Mills is chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee through which tax legislation is handled in the House.

The inflation battle isn't won. Too much emphasis is being placed on money management through the federal reserve board and international monetary organizations. But the outlook is now more hopeful for restraint than it has been in the recent past.

The federal government has a commanding role in controlling inflation. Cooperation by business and labor is desirable but it is secondary.

"The real job of keeping inflation in bounds is up to government monetary and fiscal policy makers," writes Edwin L. Dale Jr. in the New York Times magazine. "It is not painless. Who likes to pay higher taxes? What about the problems of the slums? But it can be done.

"If we want to stop inflation, the place to look is not at unions or steel corporations or doctors or barbers, but at the White House and Capitol Hill. Only they can curb total demand.

"Fortunately the government taken as a whole, is well aware of the situation, and its record has not been bad. It knows that serious inflation is not at all inevitable in the United States, despite the current inflation psychology and state of pessimism. The days of absolute price stability, even as a target, are gone forever, but that does not mean that we are condemned to an age of inflation."

White may be correct in reporting that government by and large has taken steps to control inflation but it has not always acted as rapidly to do it as economists believed to be desirable.

Politics interfere and this is especially true in a presidential election year.

Fortunately President Lynson B. Johnson is no longer under any personal compulsion to make decisions based on their political merit alone.

His decision not to seek the presidential office again gives him a freer hand to act according to the national needs.

If the office of United States Senator from Missouri can be bought, candidate True Davis made a substantial down payment at the Jackson Day event in Springfield last weekend. Those arriving for the occasion were greeted by a fleet of chartered "courtesy" buses, bearing large full-color pictures of Mr. Davis smiling benignly at the world. And if you didn't want to ride a bus, well, you could whistle up one of the seven shiny new station wagons Mr. Davis brought in for the occasion.

He had an airplane too. It flew over Springfield Friday night with his name in lights. The whole thing would have been funny if it had not been for such things as a free liquor get together bulled as a "SWING-IN FOR TRUE - Main Ball Room of the Holiday Inn - 9:00 P.M. to 1:00 A.M. - Ballroom Dancing and Refreshments, Featuring Bill Frichette and Orchestra." At this affair there was plenty of swinging, swaying and staggering too. In addition there were arguments, fights and brawls and some of the guests couldn't "stay the course" and passed out on the lawn. Among other things, numerous coats were stolen.

Mr. Davis' approach was well summed up by the "spontaneous demonstration" his followers staged when he was introduced at the Saturday night dinner.

For the other candidates there were small bands and enthusiastic supporters, shouting their affection for their man; Mr. Davis hired and imported a Negro marching band which performed dutifully.

Some accused Davis of attempting to "buy" the Senate nomination. Davis denied this allegation and said he was attempting only to make his name known, yet "with good taste".

In our opinion, the whole affair was shameful and was purely a vulgar display of wealth. It was NOT in "good taste".

It's Like This . . . In New Orleans, cops found Lawrence Dorsey sitting in a parked automobile behind a suburban bank, locked him up despite his protestations that one of his two loaded pistols was a war souvenir and he just didn't know where the other one had come from.

Four hundred and forty children below high school age were killed and nearly 27,000 were injured during 1965, primarily because they were thrown with little or no training into a dangerous environment that demands a high degree of skill to avoid death.

Parents, in many cases glad to be partially rid of the job of family "chauffeur", allow their children, sometimes as young as age four, to operate bicycles in congested traffic areas as soon as the youngsters are physically capable of doing so.

Police, unwilling to take on the extra workload of supervising and controlling this practice, usually turn their backs and don't even enforce basic traffic laws on such youthful offenders.

How many times have you seen a child ride his bike through a stop sign or stop light or around gates that are down for an approaching train? Millions of youngsters violate these laws many times a day in this country, and yet, how many times have you ever seen one of these offenders pulled over or arrested by police?

Most police chiefs will tell you, "Sure, this is a problem. But where am I supposed to get the manpower to enforce traffic laws on bicyclers?"

Elementary school principals also acknowledge the problem, but add, "Where are we supposed to get the money to set up a bicycle-driver education course?"

Parents say, "Sure it's a problem, but how can I keep a bike away from Junior when all his friends are riding them? Besides, he wouldn't obey traffic laws just because I told him to."

Meanwhile, between the day this was written and the day you are reading, 35 more children have met death while riding their bicycles.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society needs our help! The 1963 MS Hope Chest campaign of the Scott County Chapter is currently under way. It is the annual drive to raise funds for research, patient services and professional and public education.

Multiple sclerosis is a century-old disease but still the cause and cure remain unknown. In MS, the myelin sheath or protective coating of the nerve fibers deteriorates. Scars form and the nerve impulses do not get through to activate muscles to perform their tasks properly.

MS is usually a slow crippler but a progressive one.

The MS Society is the only nation-wide voluntary organization dedicated to work for MS. Since its founding in 1946, it has been a steadily growing force in promoting research into the cause, alleviation and control of MS.

This year the Society has budgeted $1,300,000 for research. The first vial of Salk vaccine is said to have cost $25 million, but who can question the worth of that expenditure? The research program of the Society brings hope to the estimated 500,000 Americans who suffer from MS and related disease. Won't you be generous when the MS volunteer calls?

The National Association of Manufacturers has noted, "American industry is concerned over the proposed federal legislation which would give to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission powers comparable to those assumed by the National Labor Relations Board in regulating industry. The commission presently has ample avenues at its command to encourage business and industry to live up to the spirit of the law. Since remarkable progress is being made, further federal mandate is neither necessary or helpful. Less government control helps create the climate which makes more job opportunities possible."

CUSSERS AND DOUBTERS

President Johnson's speech writer did a dilly a few days back when he had the chief pitchman for the Great Society hoping for the day when "the cussers and the doubters will be relegated to the rear. . ."

Those two classifications take in a lot of territory and manpower these days. If the White House press corps is to be believed, President Johnson himself is a candidate for membership. It's a prerogative of Presidents that they can't be quoted verbatim unless an official transcript is put together with a figurative ribbon and seal on ii; otherwise, so we hear, a lot of family newspapers would be using dots, dashes and asterisks to record the Texan's more pithy comments on certain of his enemies and erstwhile friends.

For our part, we're willing to have the cussers "relegated to the rear," whatever their station in life. Cussers don't make good newspaper copy since they rarely contribute anything original or clever. But the President's speech writer notwithstanding, there is a place for cussers in the Great Society. The cartoonists' caricature of the cusser is the man who clobbers a thumb with a hammer while hanging a picture of his President, or his mother-in-law. But we live in an age when Big Brother in Washington clobbers the poor guy on both thumbs and at least a like number of fingers with regularity, just to remind him who is boss. And after so much clobbering, a cusser response is inevitable.

As for the doubters, the rear is generously peopled with those already. Most of the citizenry is hanging back in its enthusiasm for some of the Great Society measures that we can think of. They're doubters -- about the War on Poverty, McNamara, the surtax on taxes, building bridges to Moscow, embracing Kosygin, shipping food to Communist countries, the UN and foreign aid.

Indeed, the polls indicate an increasing number of doubers about President Johnson himself. He made a reputation as a whiz in Congress where he was wheeling and dealing with his own element. But leading the country has been another matter.

Perhaps it all goes to prove something we heard many years ago, to the effect that no horse trader ever made a success of running a livery stable.

May it applies to the Great Society, too.

LITERAL HOOSIERS

Some people take things much too literally. There is the story about the farmer whose barn burned down. He called his insurance company and asked for a check for $1,000.

"Oh, we don't pay off our claims in cash, sir," the company explained. "Under our policy of replacing things, we'll build you an identical barn."

"Well, okay on the barn," the farmer agreed, "but if that's the way you settle claims, you can just cancel the insurance policy on my wife!"

A man will remain a rag-picker as long as he has only the vision of a rag-picker. We should have ambition to do our best, and refuse to accept our second best. Doing easy things does not tax us, neither does it challenge us. It is a good plan to make it a point to tackle one hard job every day. If we do this, we will find that we have exercised our will power, our minds, and our bodies to good purpose. One of the rewards of learning to do hard things is the capacity for doing still harder things.

H.L. Hunt Says

THE AIRBORNS DETERRENT TO AGGRESSION

The Strategic Air Command plays a key role in the defense of the United States. At all times its planes are in the air, ready to strike back if this country is attacked, thus deterring would-be aggressors. U. S. citizens should be alarmed that serious consideration is being given to ending the Strategic Air Command's "airborne alert."

This proposal grew out of the propaganda outcry which occurred two years ago when a S.A.C. bomber lost four H-bombs off the cost of Spain. It intensified this year when a B-52 S.A.C. bomber carrying H-bombs crashed in Greenland. The communist press and Farleft writers spread alarmist stories about the danger of these bombs. Pressure was brought to bear on our government to ground all H-bomb carrying planes.

The fact that these bombs were not armed and therefore harmless was lost in the propaganda barrage. The obvious motive of the communists in urging the U. S. to surrender part of its nuclear deterrent was ignored.

The Defense Department's annual report to the Senate Armed Services Committee on January 22 emphasized the importance of the S.A.C. airborne alert. The report stated that a mixed striking force of missiles and armed bombers was absolutely essential. Missile sites on the ground might be destroyed in a nuclear attack, yet airborne bombers would remain safe to deliver a counter-attack. This "second-strike" potential deters nuclear war.

It is playing into the hands of the enemy for our country to allow misleading propaganda to determine its course of action. The nation's safety hinges on a strong deterrent force, and this deterrent force requires the airborne alert of the Strategic Air Command. HLH

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON AND JACK ADERSON SAY: LBJ's meeting with RFK was quietly dramatic; LBJ's aloofness on Humphrey candidacy didn't shock him; he understands President's problems.

WASHINGTON -- High drama swirled publicly around the White House last week. High drama also moved inside the White House as the President held a meeting with the brother of the late President who has publicly labeled him a national disaster; then with the vice president who may oppose Bobby Kennedy; then with the cabinet.

The meeting with Senator Kennedy and his adviser, Ted Sorensen, both entering by the side door, was without fireworks. The President had not been happy over Bobby's charge that he, Lyndon Johnson, had been responsible for dop addiction among students and for draft - card burnings. He had been hurt over Bobby's charge that he had torn the country to pieces.

But he did not say anything when Bobby entered. Instead they sat down across the room from the President's desk, Bobby and Sorensen on the sofa which had been there since the days of JFK, the President in the big rocking chair which he had adopted ever since John F. Kennedy's death.

The President called for a map of North Vietnam and proceeded to brief the senator on the bombing pause, explaining why he had aroused the wrath of Sen. Bill Fulbright, D-Ark., by continuing to bomb up to the 20th parallel.

He explained that Fulbright had been briefed by Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford on Sunday, before the President's fireside chat. Clifford had gone out to Fulbright's home to tell him exactly what was going to happen, and explain that bombing would have to continue along the supply routes into the southern corridor of North Vietnam, otherwise American troops would be endangered.

Fulbright had telephoned the President after the speech to congratulate him, but later blasted LBJ in the press, denouncing the bombing pause as a deceptive sham. The President seemed to think Fulbright had rejected the proposal on behalf of Ho Chi Minh, who later accepted it.

CLARK CLIFFORD'S PLAN

Johnson pointed out on the map the manner in which North Vietnamese supplies were coming down the long corridor adjacent to Laos, then slipping across the Laotian border to be smuggled into South Vietnam later.

"I got together with some of my best advisers, including Arthur Goldberg," the President said. "We figured we had to keep bombing this corridor. Clark Clifford has been working on this plan day and night. Nick Katzenbach urged that my speech not be in the form of an ultimatum. We are ready to follow up any overture."

He also showed Bobby that 78 per cent of North Vietnamese territory and 90 per cent of the population would be exempt from bombing, including the streets of Haiphong, which he said were now stacked with war supplies.

The President did most of the talking. Bobby did not interrupt. At the end of the briefing, the young candidate who had been trying to defeat the man who is now bowing out as President, asked the President what his political plans were.

The President made it clear that he was going to remain aloof from the political rivalries of the candidates -- for the time being.

"I'm not interested in this job for the salary," he said, "nor for the social activities."

There were a few more polite exchanges. Kennedy and Sorensen bowed out.

HHH AND LBJ

A few minutes later, vice president Humphrey came in. He and Johnson have become extremely close. Not always has it been this way. At first there were minor irritations between them. But the President has been increasingly grateful for Humphrey's devotion, especially recently when the going was rough. Last fall the President had said in the presence of Mrs. Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk, and Humphrey that he was not going to run again, and that he considered retiring early to let Hubert take over so as to get a head start on the Presidency.

He added, however, that this would look like a deal, so instead he would throw his weight to Hubert to corral delegates at the Democratic national convention.

With this background, the two men met last week. But now the President explained that he felt he must remain aloof from the political arena. It was best for national unity and the goal of peace.

It was not entirely a shock to the vice president. He had an inkling of what was on the President's mind. Earlier he had known of his deep worry of disunity in the nation.

"The board of directors isn't satisfied with the management," the President had confided. "The shareholders aren't happy. I think I could get nominated. I think I could be re-elected. But what's the use of leading a country which is divided, where the congress won't pass a tax bill, where we're facing devaluation of our currency, where white men are against black, the Irish against the Jews, and where the press distorts everything you do? If I recited the Lord's prayer, Newsweek would say that I didn't do it right."

The vice president knew how hard the President had worked, how hard he had tried to improve the nation's health. He knew how many avenues he had explored for peace, how hard he had tried to cooperate with the congress, how many times he had summoned congressional groups and the governors of states to the White House for conferences.

He understood the President's mood. He was not surprised or hurt at the news that he would remain aloof from political combat.

From their talk together, the President and the vice President stepped into the cabinet room for the first dramatic meeting with the cabinet after the news that Johnson would not run again. An account of this meeting will be published tomorrow.

NEW YORK (AP) - Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You'd never guess it by looking at her-because she doesn't like to show her age-but the average U. S. working woman is getting older. She's 40 now. In most cases she's got a husband, too. Over 57 per cent of working women are married.

How much water is in the Atlantic Ocean? Well, give or take a few drops, it is estimated to contain 82 quintillion, 171 quadrillion, 672 trillion, 175 billion, 125 million, 450 thousand, 100 gallons.

And old saving goes, "It ain't what you want that makes you fat - it's what you eat." What you eat also makes you smart. Scientists now link imparied intelligence and slow learning ability with malnutrition in early childhood.

Prosperity note: Some 79 per cent of American families now own automobiles, and 25.1 per cent have two or more.

Sometime this year the nation's trucks and passenger vehicles will reach the 1500 million mark, or one for every two persons. Only four automobiles were registered in the United States in 1895. And here's an irony, in 1904 only two cars were registered in Kansas City - and these two had a collision.

Quotable notables: "I want to be the white man's brother, not his brother-in-law. The sweltering summer of the Negro's legitimate discontent will not pass until there is an invirgorating autumn of freedom and equality." -Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Thrift tip: Tax experts advise you to double check bills from the Internal Revenue Service this year. They say the switch to computers has resulted in a rash of errors.

Where is the safest place to live? Alaska has the highest death rate from accidents of all the states. The injury rate from accidents in generally highest in the West, lowest in the Middle Atlantic and Northeastern states. For persons under 25 it is lowest in the South, but highest there for the elderly.

Lady, does your husband sometimes complain that you and the kids are crowding him out of his castle? By sending 15 cents to the American Humane Association in Denver, Col., he can get a pamphlet entitled, "How to Build a Doghouse."

Quips from our contemporaries: "My 6-year-old nephew saw one of those horror shows on television the other night. He was so scared he aged two weeks." - Weight Watchers.

Fatal padding: The belt of fat around your tummy can turn into a death belt. A recent study by the Institute of Life Insurance showed: among a group who were 25 pounds overweight when they took out policies in the 1930s, deaths were 35 per cent above average 30 years later.

DOCKERS' WALLOP!

Longshoremen to Boycott Swedish Ships Until Stockholm Ousts U. S. Army Deectors

New York: -- American Longshoremen are preparing to put their "hook" into Sweden in retaliation against Stockholm's warm hospitality towards 28 U. S. military defectors.

The dockwallopers' hook is a mightly effective invisible weapon -- the boycott. It could cost the Swedish government and its ultrasophisticated industrial complex hundreds of millions of dollars as long as the regime welcomes U. S. deserters.

The Longshoremen leaders plan, simply to ask their 110,000 pier workers to the U. S. and Canada to refuse to unload Swedish imports -- especially cars. Swedish cars rank fourth in foreign car sales in the U. S. In 1966, Sweden sold 56,500 autos here.

While the primary target of the longshoremen's two-coast boycott would be the Swedish car industry, pickets could also cripple another $275 million worth of imports from that land as well as tie up Swedish shipping and air lines.

"It's a hell of a thing to encourage the desertion of American soldiers," snapped International Longshoremen's Assn. (AFL-CIO) President Teddy Gleason who has some mighty muscle to flex at home and abroad.

"It's one matter to give sanctuary or asylum to political defectors, but it's another to see the Swedish people encourage defections from our armed forces at a time like this, and to learn that they provide the deserters with homes, and that there are private organizations which even offer them living allowances, girls and homes. Why, then, should we encourage those who encourage the weakening of our army? Why should we help their economy?

"We can hurt and we plan to do just that."

In a few days, Gleason will call his vice presidents together for an official directive. A poll of some of these men reveals they're ready to launch the boycott.

It will take several weeks after the decision before the boycott apparatus can swing into action. The longshoremen in such direct "job actions" work from master lists, bills of lading and other information from their global intelligence network.

Think what you will of their right to affect foreigh commerce or to make foreign policy -- but don't think for a moment these longshoremen haven't the power to do both. They have.

They're still boycotting Soviet ships. They still won't unload cargoes from the USSR even when transshipped is more politically neutral bottoms.

The American longshoremen are the pivotal power in the London-based, 6.5 million-member International Transportworkers Federation (ITF) -- a network of transport unions throughout the free world.

Recently this international transport "secretariat" wanted to hit the military junta in Greece with a short but paralyzing protest transport strike. ITF's General Secretary, Hans Imhof, write, cable and telephoned Gleason. In effect, he said that the Greek government would not be impressed, not would the boycott be effective unless the American longshoremen refused to unload Greek flag ships.

Gleason angered Imhof, first by ignoring his appeal and then by telling him during a transatlantic telephone conversation that he was not going to jump on the "bandwagon," and then by saying that boycott of the Greek military government was against U. S. State Dept. policy.

Gleason and his colleagues still smart from the disdainful slap they got from the ITF when the U. S. longshoremen urged a global boycott of Cuba and North Vietnam. Why, asked Gleason the other day, should they have turned us down then and now come to us for action against a friendly government?

Without the ILA's assistance, there was no boycott, short or long, of Athens' shipping fleets, railroads or airlines.

This, of course, is a measure of the same power long encountered by several American presidents, the U. S. State Department, far-flung American industries, and many port city governments. It was the ILA's boycott of copper imports last month which forced President Johnson to call in both sides in the seven month copper and nonferrous metal strike.

It was the ILA's closing of New York Harbor which forced two powerful governors, Nelson Rockefeller and Richard Hughes, to back down from their pressure to "license" new longshoremen unwanted by the union.

It is the ILA's preparations, beginning now, for Atlantic and Gulf coast contract negotiations late this summer, which is worrying the White House.

So a boycott of Swedish imports hardly is a problem to the dockers. It begins to look like each U. S. military defector will cost Sweden millions of dollars a man.

New Covenant in My Blood

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles about Holy Week written by members of the Sikeston Ministerial Alliance.

BY THE REV. FR. ROBERT SCHUMACHER
Pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church

Jesus referred to the Eucharist, when He established it, as "the new covenant in my blood." Meditating on the Eucharist as covenant can be very helpful in the appreciation of the Christian life.

The old covenant was the agreement between God and His people: "You will be my people; I will be your God." It involved a mutual promise. God promised to lead them to the land of their fathers, to care for them there, and to make them a great nation. The people promised to do what ever God commanded them.

In their liturgy, the chosen people celebrated the yearly renewal of this covenant in the Passover. The great Passover meal was a re-enactment of the meal eaten by the Hebrews as they left Egypt. At this meal, the goodness and power of God were recalled, as He led them from Egypt to the Promised Land, making the covenant with them along the way. At this meal they were reminded of God's commitment: "I will be your God." They made again their commitment: "We will do whatever you command us."

By His life and death, Jesus established the new covenant. Jesus as God gives Himself to man, promising to be with us always, to bring happiness that follows. (Heaven is our promised land.) Jesus as man, representing mankind, gives Himself to God - by His obedience, His love for God and all God's people, by His suffering and death. This mutual giving is the new covenant - God gives Himself to man; man gives himself to God.

In the Eucharist, the Christian community celebrates this covenant. In the Eucharist, Jesus our God gives Himself to us: "This is my body, which is being given for you --my blood, which shall be shed for you." In the Eucharist, He makes His greatest promise: "He who eats this bread shall be shed for you." In the Eucharist, He makes His greatest promise: "He who eats this bread shall live forever." In the Eucharist, Jesus our brother gives himself to his heavenly Father, and we join with Him in giving ourselves: "For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord until He comes."

Whenever the Christian community celebrates the Eucharist, we renew our acceptance of God's goodness, and our commitment to God's will. In the Eucharist, God says again: "I am your God." In the Eucharist, we say again: "We will do whatever you ask of us."

Oklahoma State Leads Big Eight Baseball Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma State is off to an unbeaten start in quest of its third straight Big Eight baseball championship, and the most impressive factor for Coach Chet Bryan's club is a talented cast of newcomers.

Sophomore Mike Camp, 6-foot-4 right-hander with a powerful fast ball, pitched 9 1-3 innings of shutout ball in relief as OSU won the opener of a Saturday doubleheader at Iowa State 4-3 in 10 innings.

Steve Houck, a sophomore outfielder, belted a three-run home run to lead OSU's 22-4 avalanche victory in the second game. Another sophomore, Bob Richardson, was the winning pitcher in the series opener Friday, when catcher Bob Hudspeth, a junior college transfer, drove in four runs.

Bryan's veterans are looking good, too. Pitcher Bill Dobbs, winner in the final game, has a 2-0 record and three solid jobs. Shortstop Danny Thompson was 4-for-10 Saturday, third baseman Alan Johnson 4-for-8 and outfielder Wayne Weatherly 4-for-11. Outfielder Jim Hays, much improved over his part-time .104 mark of last year, belted three doubles.

Kansas State, Oklahoma and Missouri — in a triple tie at 2-1 after the opening weekend of the season — look like OSU's chief challengers. Colorado could be in this class if pitching ace Taylor Toomey regains his form. Colorado plays at OSU this Friday and Saturday, while Oklapoma is at K-State, Iowa State at Missouri and Kansas at Nebraska.

K-State's Van Bullock, a little left-hander, pitched a two-hitter while shortstop Joe Spurgeon made three excellent defensive plays and ripped a three-run triple during an eight-run second inning. The Wildcats won 10-2 at Lawrence.

K-State's Jim Brown stole second and home for the first run off KU starter Roger Jackson. Relief pitcher Richard Slicker homered for KU.

Colorado pitcher Lloyd Hutchinson belted a two-run homer in a six-run first inning and struck out nine in a 12-4 victory at Boulder, but Missouri came back to win the second game 7-3, taking the series. Jim Loving hit a three-run homer in the first inning for Mizzou, and later Steve Lundholm and Rudy Stroupe also homered for the Tigers.

Mick Logue, Nebraska's sophomore right-hander, refused to crack with men on base and went all the way to a 2-1 victory at Norman, preventing a series sweep by Oklahoma. OU got nine hits but only two walks and left 11 men stranded. Both Nebraska runs were unearned off sophomore Ron Hall.

Thinclads Rank Fifth

After being rained out at Charleston Tuesday, the Bulldogs took fifth in their first meet at the Kennett Invitational Friday. Cold weather and an exciting bus trip, in which the bus almost had an accident because of a blowout, kept the team from doing better.

Kennett dominated the meet, scoring 83 points to second place Cape Central's 46 points. Charleston was third and Poplar Bluff placed fourth with Sikeston fifth. Other teams participating were Dexter, Deering, Caruthersville and Delta.

Most of Sikeston's scoring was done by Art Jackson, who took home four first place trophies. Art won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, the broad jump, and ran the third leg of the 880-yard relay. The 880 relay team brought home the only team trophy with a winning time of 1:36.4. Members of the relay team are Riley Gross, Terry Bryant, Art Jackson and Dennis Snelling.

David Newberry placed third in the pole vault with a vault of 12 feet but had fewer misses and took first and second.

David won the pole vault at Charleston with a vault of 11 feet five inches in the rain, but Sikeston left before the finals started. David's personal goals this year are to vault 13 feet and go to the state meet in Columbia.

Other boys who brought home ribbons were Dennis Snelling, Turner Marshall, Riley Gross, Terry Bryant and Gary Long. Snelling placed third in the 100-yard dash and Marshall placed fifth in the broad jump. The mile relay team composed of Marshall, Gross, Long and Bryant, placed fifth.

Sikeston's distance runners made impressive showings and just barely missed getting ribbons. Jim Carney and John Lett placed sixth and seventh in the half mile run. Tom Dunn and Don Littleton placed sixth and seventh in the mile run. And Jim Lewis placed seventh in the two mile run.

Sikeston's next meet will be Saturday at the Paducah Invitational.

The defending World Champions, a team with everything, and the Detroit Tigers, a team that missed out in its bid for a league pennant last season look like baseball's best clubs. They are being chosen here to win the respective National and American League pennant races and meet in the World Series.

The Cardinals are breaking from the National League with a staff that showed 91 pitching victories in 1967 and show definate signs of an even better record with Bob Gibson at full strength.

The team is set on a solid starting lineup with good speed, defense and a backup crew second to none in the league.

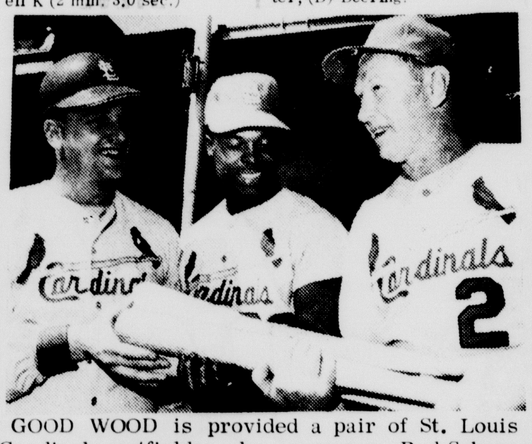

As for the American League Tigers -- their hopes lie in pitching with power hitters such as Al Kaline, Willie Horton, Norm Cash, Bill Freehan and Eddie Matthews providing the offense.

Keeping the veterans healthy... especially Kaline, Horton and Matthews are the keys for the Detroit pennant Hopes.

Here's the way it looks from here.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:

"Prevention... worth an ounce of cure"

Over one million accidental poisonings occur yearly. A frightening number, over one third, happen to children under five. The National Safety Council Report lists over 1800 fatalities from accidental poisonings in a recent year ... practically 2% of all accidental deaths in the home. By observing a few simple rules you can prevent one of these tragedies from happening to your family. Prevent accidental poisonings by keeping poisons out of the reach of children and clearly label all poisonous substances. If poisoning does occur, call a doctor immediately, then administer emergency treatment. If you're unsure of the proper first-aid-for-poisoning procedure, now is a good time to learn it. Big Week For SHS Athletes

After rain forced postponment of a number of last week's sports activity at SHS . . . the athletes will try again starting today. A full schedule is set for the week with the track, tennis, golf and baseball teams getting into the picture.

Sports will have another busy week again at SHS.

The baseball team and the track team will get little rest over the Easter holidays.

The golf squad will start things off by venturing to visit the Bearcats at Dexter today. Sikeston has one of the better teams in the area and is expected to have little trouble with the Cats.

The junior varisty will open its track season with the first meet of the year at Poplar Bluff.

While the junior varsity is at Bluff the varsity will be training heavily for the tough track meet at Paducah. Sikeston will be one of four Missouri teams there.

During the past four years Missouri squads have won the meet all four times. Kennett winning three times and Cape Girardeau Central once.

Coach Lambert was happy with the performances of his boys at the Kennett invitational meet Friday, and feels that his team is a team that is a year away from hitting its peak. The Dogs took fifth place at Kennett.

He looks for Art Jackson, Dennis Snelling, and David Newberry to be standouts at Paducah. He expects Newberry to be pushing the school record of 12 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault. The record was set by Alan Craig last year. David already has cleared 12 feet.

The baseballers have by far the busiet schedule for the week and Easter vacation with four games on tap. The first game will be here with the Oran Eagles Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. Oran defeated the Dogs earlier 3-0.

Mike Garner or Ed Throop are expected to go on the mound.

Next the baseballers will travel to Cape Central for a game with a rugged Tiger team. The game will start at 3:30 p.m. Thursday. Garner or Throop, depending on who pitched Wednesday will throw against the Tigers with Les Schaztley and Steve Counts in the bullpen.

The final stop for the Dogs will be at Paducah Saturday with the track team. There will be a double header schedule to be played with the starting time of the first game to be 1 p.m. The pitchers are uncertain. Paducah rarely has a bad baseball team so it seems that the Bulldogs will have their hands full with the busiest week of the season and playing most likely their toughest opponents of the year.

The tennis team will have a week off to prepare for their coming meet with Kennett April 16.

All in all it will be a busy week at the high school. Spring sports really start to get into the swing of things.

Cards Delay NL Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies were caught in a rundown between Walter O'Malley and Warren Giles today as the Los Angeles Dodgers considered opening the 1968 baseball season all by themselves.

Los Angeles owner O'Malley was to decide today whether or not to go ahead with Tuesday night's scheduled home opener against Philadelphia— a game the Phillies have refused to play.

The Dodgers were left holding the ball Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox pushed back their Tuesday openers one day, joining seven other major league clubs which had postponed opening home games in deference to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Funeral services for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta.

National League President Giles left it up to the Dodgers, as the home club, to decide whether to go through with their game.

John Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, said earlier his club would not take the field at Los Angeles Tuesday night, at the risk of a possible forfeit and fine— because of the King funeral that afternoon.

The other opening games in each league, including the presidential fixture at Washington, all were set for Wednesday.

President Johnson was expected to miss the Senators' debut against the Minnesota Twins — one of five afternoon openers in the American League. The White Sox entertain Cleveland, Boston's defending champions are at Detroit, the new Oakland Athletics at Baltimore and California at New York in other AL inaugurals.

The Chicago Cubs visit Cincinnati and the New York Mets are at San Francisco in National League afternoon games. Pittsburgh is at Houston and Atlanta at St. Louis under the lights.

While O'Malley and Bavasi pondered the possibility of opening the season without an opponent, LA Manager Walter Alston checked into an Inglewood, Calif., hospital Sunday for treatment of a kidney stone and the Dodgers whipped Cleveland 5-1 in the lone exhibition finale.

All the other exhibition games were canceled in line with the designation of Sunday as a day of mourning for Dr. King.

A Dodgers team physician said Alston, beginning his 15th season as dean of major league managers, has a stone in the right kidney. "As soon as it passes we'll let him go," said Dr. Robert Woods. He said doctors might use a tube to remove the stone if it had not passed today.

Big Names Omitted In Selection Of Olympic Basketball Squad

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — U.S. Olympic basketball Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State feels foreign competition will be plenty rough and might tall.

A 12-man U.S. team was named Sunday, banking more on quickness than on size.

The Olympic trials ended Saturday night with the NAIA All-Stars whipping a cold-shooting AAU team 64-59 in the tile game. More than 80 players were considered in the three-day tournament in Albuquerque.

A 45-man committee picked this team:

NAIA— Glynn Saulters, 6-foot-2, 175 pounds, Northeast Louisiana; Don Dee, 6-7, 205, St. Mary of the Plains, Kan.

AAU— Calvin Fowler, 6-1, 170, Akron, Ohio, Goodyear; James King, 6-7, Goodyears.

Junior College All-Stars— Spencer Haywood, 6-8, 230, Trinidad, Colo., Junior College.

Armed Forces— Mike Barrett, 6-2, 155, U.S. Navy and former West Virginia Tech collegian; John R. Clawson, 6-4, 200, U.S. Army and Michigan; Mike Silliman, 6-6, 225, U.S. Army and U.S. Military Academy.

NCAA - Ken Spain, 6-9, 225, Houston; Jo Jo White, 6-3, 194, Kansas; Bill Hosket, 6-7, 228, Ohio State, Charlie Scott, 6-4, 180, North Carolina.

Alternates— Don Issel, Kentucky, Tom Black, Goodyears, George Carter, U.S. Army; Charles Paulk, Northeastern Oklahoma; Rick Mount, Purdue; and Joe Hamilton, Southwest Christian, Tex.

Iba said the 12 first-team selections will gather at Alamosa, Colo., in early September and four weeks of high-altitude training before exhibition games against professional teams in New York's Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati and possibly Albuquerque.

SHS Netmen Even Mark

The Bulldog netmen brought their record to two and two Saturday by manhandling the Kennett Indians. The Dogs did not lose a single match and left the Kennett court with all the marbles.

Naturally, Coach Weichand was happy with the performance of the squad. He feels that the netmen have found their grove and hopes they can stay in it for the remainder of the season.

Brad Crumpecker remained undefeated by beating his opponent easily, 6-3 and 6-2. This is the fourth victory in a row for the ace Bulldog.

Jeff Comer made an impressive showing in his first meet of the year by beating Keith Parker of Kennett 6-1, 7-9, and 6-3.

Don Choate won over Harraway 6-0 and 6-3. Bucko Miller sparkled in his match by winning 6-3 and 6-4. Hank Lippert slipped by Robert Pritchard 9-7 and 6-1.

In the last single Bob McCord defeated a tough Mike Crafton 6-1, 3-6, and 6-4. This was the most exciting match.

In the doubles the Sikeston squad shined brightly by winning both sets. In the first Hank Lippert and Brad Crumpecker ran over Jim Story and Robert Pritchard of Kennett 6-2 and 6-1.

In the second doubles Bucko Miller and Bob McCord had a little rougher time with Ben Green and Mike Crafton, but finally won going away. Their scores ere 6-3, 1-6, and 6-2.

The tennis team will have this week off and will work toward their rematch with the Kennett team April 16.

The meeting will be held here. Starting time is 3:30 p.m.

Yaz Declines Prediction

BOSTON (AP) — A year ago Carl Yastrzemski drew polite smiles of friendly laughter when he predicted the Boston Red Sox would win the American League baseball pennant as 100-1 longshots.

Now the Triple Crown winner smiles politely in refusing to make any predictions on the 1968 flag chase.

"You just can't make any predictions on how we'll do at this time," Yaz said while waiting for his turn in the batting cage Sunday during a workout at Fenway Park.

"Last year I knew for sure the talent was there," he said. "We had (Tony) Conigliaro and Jim Lonborg healthy and ready at the start. Now things look bad for Tony, and Lonborg may miss the first month.

"We have too many ifs to make a sound prediction— but I'll guarantee that we'll be shooting for it all again."

Yastrzemski, who hit .326 with 44 homers and 121 runs batted in en route to the AL's Most Valuable Player award last season, pronounced himself fit for the start of the 1968 campaign.

Conigliaro suffered a cracked left cheekbone and a serious eye injury when struck by a fast ball thrown by California's Jack Hamilton last Aug. 18.

Lonborg's left knee was injured in a skiing accident Dec. 23.

Sports Events Slowed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Athletic activity continued at a virtual standstill today as the sports community joined the rest of the nation in mourning the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The funeral for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta, and few sports events will be held until after the services.

Exceptions included the final two rounds of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament set for today, an International Hockey League playoff at Muskegon, Mich., and an American Hockey League playoff at Providence, R.I., tonight. Some horse racing also was on tap.

The Greensboro Open already has been postponed twice— Friday because of rain and Sunday in deference to the memory of Dr. King.

The Los Angeles Dodgers said they would decide today on whether to postpone their National League baseball opener at home Tuesday night against Philadelphia. The Phillies have said they will not play, at the risk of forfeiture and fine.

The other 18 major league clubs will open the season Wednesday. Three games, including the presidential opener in Washington, originally were scheduled today. Six had been set for Tuesday.

All of the final baseball exhibition games Sunday were canceled with the exception of the Cleveland-Los Angeles game at San Diego, Calif.

There was no action Sunday in major league hockey and basketball.

The National Hockey League playoffs resume Tuesday night with Chicago at New York, Montreal at Boston and Los Angeles at Minnesota. Philadelphia plays at St. Louis Wednesday night.

The American Basketball Association playoffs get under way again Tuesday night with New Orleans at Dallas. Pittsburgh is at Minnesota Wednesday.

Postseason play in the National Basketball Association resumes with Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles Wednesday night.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ch. Shamrock's Acres Light Brigade, a 3-year-old Labrador retriever, was named best in show Sunday night at the annual International Dog Show. Owned by Mrs. James Gets of Lake Forest, Ill., Light Brigade is the first retriever to win the Chicago event.

WESTFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Ruby Bradley, who fought Midget Wolgast for the world flyweight boxing title in Brooklyn July 13, 1931, died Saturday. Bradley, 63, lost a 15-round decision to the champion.

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Rollie Beale of Toledo, driving a Chevrolet-powered car, won the 30-lap USAC spring car auto race Sunday at the half-mile Eldora Speedway.

Ohio Wesleyan went unbeaten in football last season for its third time in 77 years. After Coach Jack Fouts' team tied Albion in the opener, OW won its last eight games.

Oklahoma State Leads Big Eight Baseball Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma State is off to an unbeaten start in quest of its third straight Big Eight baseball championship, and the most impressive factor for Coach Chet Bryan's club is a talented cast of newcomers.

Sophomore Mike Camp, 6-foot-4 right-hander with a powerful fast ball, pitched 9 1-3 innings of shutout ball in relief as OSU won the opener of a Saturday doubleheader at Iowa State 4-3 in 10 innings.

Steve Houck, a sophomore outfielder, belted a three-run home run to lead OSU's 22-4 avalanche victory in the second game. Another sophomore, Bob Richardson, was the winning pitcher in the series opener Friday, when catcher Bob Hudspeth, a junior college transfer, drove in four runs.

Bryan's veterans are looking good, too. Pitcher Bill Dobbs, winner in the final game, has a 2-0 record and three solid jobs. Shortstop Danny Thompson was 4-for-10 Saturday, third baseman Alan Johnson 4-for-8 and outfielder Wayne Weatherly 4-for-11. Outfielder Jim Hays, much improved over his part-time .104 mark of last year, belted three doubles.

Kansas State, Oklahoma and Missouri — in a triple tie at 2-1 after the opening weekend of the season — look like OSU's chief challengers. Colorado could be in this class if pitching ace Taylor Toomey regains his form. Colorado plays at OSU this Friday and Saturday, while Oklahoma is at K-State, Iowa State at Missouri and Kansas at Nebraska.

K-State's Van Bullock, a little left-hander, pitched a two-hitter while shortstop Joe Spurgeon made three excellent defensive plays and ripped a three-run triple during an eight-run second inning. The Wildcats won 10-2 at Lawrence.

K-State's Jim Brown stole second and home for the first run off KU starter Roger Jackson. Relief pitcher Richard Slicker homered for KU.

Colorado pitcher Lloyd Hutchinson belted a two-run homer in a six-run first inning and struck out nine in a 12-4 victory at Boulder, but Missouri came back to win the second game 7-3, taking the series. Jim Loving hit a three-run homer in the first inning for Mizzou, and later Steve Lundholm and Rudy Stroupe also homered for the Tigers.

Mick Logue, Nebraska's sophomore right-hander, refused to crack with men on base and went all the way to a 2-1 victory at Norman, preventing a series sweep by Oklahoma. OU got nine hits but only two walks and left 11 men stranded. Both Nebraska runs were unearned off sophomore Ron Hall.

Thinclads Rank Fifth

After being rained out at Charleston Tuesday, the Bulldogs took fifth in their first meet at the Kennett Invitational Friday. Cold weather and an exciting bus trip, in which the bus almost had an accident because of a blowout, kept the team from doing better.

Kennett dominated the meet, scoring 83 points to second place Cape Central's 46 points. Charleston was third and Poplar Bluff placed fourth with Sikeston fifth. Other teams participating were Dexter, Deering, Caruthersville and Delta.

Most of Sikeston's scoring was done by Art Jackson, who took home four first place trophies. Art won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, the broad jump, and ran the third leg of the 880-yard relay. The 880 relay team brought home the only team trophy with a winning time of 1:36.4. Members of the relay team are Riley Gross, Terry Bryant, Art Jackson and Dennis Snelling.

David Newberry placed third in the pole vault with a vault of 12 feet but had fewer misses and took first and second.

David won the pole vault at Charleston with a vault of 11 feet five inches in the rain, but Sikeston left before the finals started. David's personal goals this year are to vault 13 feet and go to the state meet in Columbia.

Other boys who brought home ribbons were Dennis Snelling, Turner Marshall, Riley Gross, Terry Bryant and Gary Long. Snelling placed third in the 100-yard dash and Marshall placed fifth in the broad jump. The mile relay team composed of Marshall, Gross, Long and Bryant, placed fifth.

Sikeston's distance runners made impressive showings and just barely missed getting ribbons. Jim Carney and John Lett placed sixth and seventh in the half mile run. Tom Dunn and Don Littleton placed sixth and seventh in the mile run. And Jim Lewis placed seventh in the two mile run.

Sikeston's next meet will be Saturday at the Paducah Invitational.

The defending World Champions, a team with everything, and the Detroit Tigers, a team that missed out in its bid for a league pennant last season look like baseball's best clubs. They are being chosen here to win the respective National and American League pennant races and meet in the World Series.

The Cardinals are breaking from the National League with a staff that showed 91 pitching victories in 1967 and show definate signs of an even better record with Bob Gibson at full strength.

The team is set on a solid starting lineup with good speed, defense and a backup crew second to none in the league.

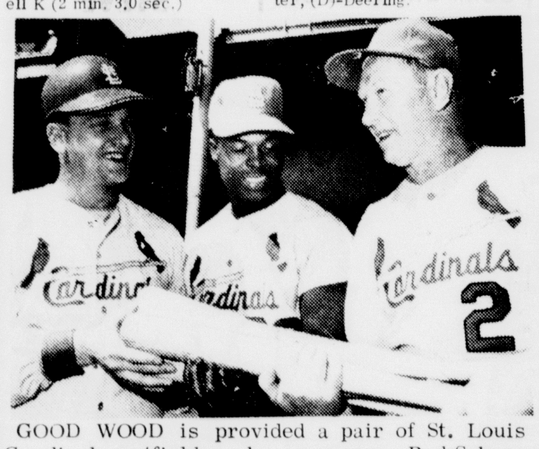

As for the American League Tigers -- their hopes lie in pitching with power hitters such as Al Kaline, Willie Horton, Norm Cash, Bill Freehan and Eddie Matthews providing the offense.

Keeping the veterans healthy... especially Kaline, Horton and Matthews are the keys for the Detroit pennant Hopes.

Here's the way it looks from here.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:

"Prevention... worth an ounce of cure"

Over one million accidental poisonings occur yearly. A frightening number, over one third, happen to children under five. The National Safety Council Report lists over 1800 fatalities from accidental poisonings in a recent year ... practically 2% of all accidental deaths in the home. By observing a few simple rules you can prevent one of these tragedies from happening to your family. Prevent accidental poisonings by keeping poisons out of the reach of children and clearly label all poisonous substances. If poisoning does occur, call a doctor immediately, then administer emergency treatment. If you're unsure of the proper first-aid-for-poisoning procedure, now is a good time to learn it. Pick up a free Poison Antidote Chart at our Rexall Pharmacy today. Help reduce the unnecessarily high toll of tragic deaths due to accidental poisoning!

Big Week For SHS Athletes

After rain forced postponment of a number of last week's sports activity at SHS . . . the athletes will try again starting today. A full schedule is set for the week with the track, tennis, golf and baseball teams getting into the picture.

Sports will have another busy week again at SHS.

The baseball team and the track team will get little rest over the Easter holidays.

The golf squad will start things off by venturing to visit the Bearcats at Dexter today. Sikeston has one of the better teams in the area and is expected to have little trouble with the Cats.

The junior varisty will open its track season with the first meet of the year at Poplar Bluff.

While the junior varsity is at Bluff the varsity will be training heavily for the tough track meet at Paducah. Sikeston will be one of four Missouri teams there.

During the past four years Missouri squads have won the meet all four times. Kennett winning three times and Cape Girardeau Central once.

Coach Lambert was happy with the performances of his boys at the Kennett invitational meet Friday, and feels that his team is a team that is a year away from hitting its peak. The Dogs took fifth place at Kennett.

He looks for Art Jackson, Dennis Snelling, and David Newberry to be standouts at Paducah. He expects Newberry to be pushing the school record of 12 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault. The record was set by Alan Craig last year. David already has cleared 12 feet.

The baseballers have by far the busiet schedule for the week and Easter vacation with four games on tap. The first game will be here with the Oran Eagles Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. Oran defeated the Dogs earlier 3-0.

Mike Garner or Ed Throop are expected to go on the mound.

Next the baseballers will travel to Cape Central for a game with a rugged Tiger team. The game will start at 3:30 p.m. Thursday. Garner or Throop, depending on who pitched Wednesday will throw against the Tigers with Les Schaztley and Steve Counts in the bullpen.

The final stop for the Dogs will be at Paducah Saturday with the track team. There will be a double header schedule to be played with the starting time of the first game to be 1 p.m. The pitchers are uncertain. Paducah rarely has a bad baseball team so it seems that the Bulldogs will have their hands full with the busiest week of the season and playing most likely their toughest opponents of the year.

The tennis team will have a week off to prepare for their coming meet with Kennett April 16.

All in all it will be a busy week at the high school. Spring sports really start to get into the swing of things.

Cards Delay NL Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies were caught in a rundown between Walter O'Malley and Warren Giles today as the Los Angeles Dodgers considered opening the 1968 baseball season all by themselves.

Los Angeles owner O'Malley was to decide today whether or not to go ahead with Tuesday night's scheduled home opener against Philadelphia — a game the Phillies have refused to play.

The Dodgers were left holding the ball Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox pushed back their Tuesday openers one day, joining seven other major league clubs which had postponed opening home games in deference to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Funeral services for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta.

National League President Giles left it up to the Dodgers, as the home club, to decide whether to go through with their game.

John Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, said earlier his club would not take the field at Los Angeles Tuesday night, at the risk of a possible forfeit and fine— because of the King funeral that afternoon.

The other opening games in each league, including the presidential fixture at Washington, all were set for Wednesday.

President Johnson was expected to miss the Senators' debut against the Minnesota Twins — one of five afternoon openers in the American League. The White Sox entertain Cleveland, Boston's defending champions are at Detroit, the new Oakland Athletics at Baltimore and California at New York in other AL inaugurals.

The Chicago Cubs visit Cincinnati and the New York Mets are at San Francisco in National League afternoon games. Pittsburgh is at Houston and Atlanta at St. Louis under the lights.

While O'Malley and Bavasi pondered the possibility of opening the season without an opponent, LA Manager Walter Alston checked into an Inglewood, Calif., hospital Sunday for treatment of a kidney stone and the Dodgers whipped Cleveland 5-1 in the lone exhibition finale.

All the other exhibition games were canceled in line with the designation of Sunday as a day of mourning for Dr. King.

A Dodgers team physician said Alston, beginning his 15th season as dean of major league managers, has a stone in the right kidney. "As soon as it passes we'll let him go," said Dr. Robert Woods. He said doctors might use a tube to remove the stone if it had not passed today.

Big Names Omitted In Selection Of Olympic Basketball Squad

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — U.S. Olympic basketball Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State feels foreign competition will be plenty rough and might tall.

A 12-man U.S. team was named Sunday, banking more on quickness than on size.

The Olympic trials ended Saturday night with the NAIA All-Stars whipping a cold-shooting AAU team 64-59 in the tile game. More than 80 players were considered in the three-day tournament in Albuquerque.

A 45-man committee picked this team:

NAIA— Glynn Saulters, 6-foot-2, 175 pounds, Northeast Louisiana; Don Dee, 6-7, 205, St. Mary of the Plains, Kan.

AAU— Calvin Fowler, 6-1, 170, Akron, Ohio, Goodyear; James King, 6-7, Goodyears.

Junior College All-Stars— Spencer Haywood, 6-8, 230, Trinidad, Colo., Junior College.

Armed Forces— Mike Barrett, 6-2, 155, U.S. Navy and former West Virginia Tech collegian; John R. Clawson, 6-4, 200, U.S. Army and Michigan; Mike Silliman, 6-6, 225, U.S. Army and U.S. Military Academy.

NCAA - Ken Spain, 6-9, 225, Houston; Jo Jo White, 6-3, 194, Kansas; Bill Hosket, 6-7, 228, Ohio State, Charlie Scott, 6-4, 180, North Carolina.

Alternates— Don Issel, Kentucky, Tom Black, Goodyears, George Carter, U.S. Army; Charles Paulk, Northeastern Oklahoma; Rick Mount, Purdue; and Joe Hamilton, Southwest Christian, Tex.

Iba said the 12 first-team selections will gather at Alamosa, Colo., in early September and four weeks of high-altitude training before exhibition games against professional teams in New York's Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati and possibly Albuquerque.

SHS Netmen Even Mark

The Bulldog netmen brought their record to two and two Saturday by manhandling the Kennett Indians. The Dogs did not lose a single match and left the Kennett court with all the marbles.

Naturally, Coach Weichand was happy with the performance of the squad. He feels that the netmen have found their grove and hopes they can stay in it for the remainder of the season.

Brad Crumpecker remained undefeated by beating his opponent easily, 6-3 and 6-2. This is the fourth victory in a row for the ace Bulldog.

Jeff Comer made an impressive showing in his first meet of the year by beating Keith Parker of Kennett 6-1, 7-9, and 6-3.

Don Choate won over Harraway 6-0 and 6-3. Bucko Miller sparkled in his match by winning 6-3 and 6-4. Hank Lippert slipped by Robert Pritchard 9-7 and 6-1.

In the last single Bob McCord defeated a tough Mike Crafton 6-1, 3-6, and 6-4. This was the most exciting match.

In the doubles the Sikeston squad shined brightly by winning both sets. In the first Hank Lippert and Brad Crumpecker ran over Jim Story and Robert Pritchard of Kennett 6-2 and 6-1.

In the second doubles Bucko Miller and Bob McCord had a little rougher time with Ben Green and Mike Crafton, but finally won going away. Their scores ere 6-3, 1-6, and 6-2.

The tennis team will have this week off and will work toward their rematch with the Kennett team April 16.

The meeting will be held here. Starting time is 3:30 p.m.

Yaz Declines Prediction

BOSTON (AP) — A year ago Carl Yastrzemski drew polite smiles of friendly laughter when he predicted the Boston Red Sox would win the American League baseball pennant as 100-1 longshots.

Now the Triple Crown winner smiles politely in refusing to make any predictions on the 1968 flag chase.

"You just can't make any predictions on how we'll do at this time," Yaz said while waiting for his turn in the batting cage Sunday during a workout at Fenway Park.

"Last year I knew for sure the talent was there," he said. "We had (Tony) Conigliaro and Jim Lonborg healthy and ready at the start. Now things look bad for Tony, and Lonborg may miss the first month.

"We have too many ifs to make a sound prediction— but I'll guarantee that we'll be shooting for it all again."

Yastrzemski, who hit .326 with 44 homers and 121 runs batted in en route to the AL's Most Valuable Player award last season, pronounced himself fit for the start of the 1968 campaign.

Conigliaro suffered a cracked left cheekbone and a serious eye injury when struck by a fast ball thrown by California's Jack Hamilton last Aug. 18.

Lonborg's left knee was injured in a skiing accident Dec. 23.

Sports Events Slowed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Athletic activity continued at a virtual standstill today as the sports community joined the rest of the nation in mourning the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The funeral for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta, and few sports events will be held until after the services.

Exceptions included the final two rounds of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament set for today, an International Hockey League playoff at Muskegon, Mich., and an American Hockey League playoff at Providence, R.I., tonight. Some horse racing also was on tap.

The Greensboro Open already has been postponed twice— Friday because of rain and Sunday in deference to the memory of Dr. King.

The Los Angeles Dodgers said they would decide today on whether to postpone their National League baseball opener at home Tuesday night against Philadelphia. The Phillies have said they will not play, at the risk of forfeiture and fine.

The other 18 major league clubs will open the season Wednesday. Three games, including the presidential opener in Washington, originally were scheduled today. Six had been set for Tuesday.

All of the final baseball exhibition games Sunday were canceled with the exception of the Cleveland-Los Angeles game at San Diego, Calif.

There was no action Sunday in major league hockey and basketball.

The National Hockey League playoffs resume Tuesday night with Chicago at New York, Montreal at Boston and Los Angeles at Minnesota. Philadelphia plays at St. Louis Wednesday night.

The American Basketball Association playoffs get under way again Tuesday night with New Orleans at Dallas. Pittsburgh is at Minnesota Wednesday.

Postseason play in the National Basketball Association resumes with Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles Wednesday night.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ch. Shamrock's Acres Light Brigade, a 3-year-old Labrador retriever, was named best in show Sunday night at the annual International Dog Show. Owned by Mrs. James Gets of Lake Forest, Ill., Light Brigade is the first retriever to win the Chicago event.

WESTFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Ruby Bradley, who fought Midget Wolgast for the world flyweight boxing title in Brooklyn July 13, 1931, died Saturday. Bradley, 63, lost a 15-round decision to the champion.

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Rollie Beale of Toledo, driving a Chevrolet-powered car, won the 30-lap USAC spring car auto race Sunday at the half-mile Eldora Speedway.

Ohio Wesleyan went unbeaten in football last season for its third time in 77 years. After Coach Jack Fouts' team tied Albion in the opener, OW won its last eight games.

Sportsmen Plant Pin Oak Trees

NEW MADRID -- Members of the New Madrid County Sportsman's club met at the court house and went to the leased area of the Anderson-Tully Company to plant pin oak trees.

The trees are being planted to provide food for wildlife. Ross Hill is chairman of the project.

Eddie Clark was named to investigate the arrangements for a professional boat race, which the club is considering sponsoring.

Robert Shy and Virgil Burks were selected to be in charge of three wolf dogs the club is buying.

A mulligan stew, prepared by D. B. Aston and G. G. Dawson, were served to the 80 members attending the meeting Tuesday night at the Veteran's building.

The next meeting will be May 7.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)— Though he has missed much action this season because of a sprained knee, sophomore quarterback Rich Panczyczyn (PAN-sition) has much to look back on.

In his debut against Baylor his 88 rushing yards were more than the yards gained in a debut by previous sophomore wearers of No. 44

All-America Floyd Little gained 82 yards in his varsity debut, Jim Brown 40 and Ernie Davis 30.

—Q—

"Can't the same people a funeral home has on call around the clock also be used to answer ambulance calls, thereby keeping costs down?"

—A—

Suppose a death occurred and you had to wait until funeral home personnel were back from an ambulance call before they could start helping your family. No . . . a funeral firm cannot in good conscience divide the time of its personnel between two such important duties.

WE LOOK, but do we see? We read, but do we comprehend? Photographer Larry Mulvehill, ever alert to the unusual or off-beat, found these amusing sign situations at New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; a Phoenix, Ariz., traffic court; the Florida Keys; a parking lot in Jacksonville, Fla.; and Water Mill, N.Y.

U.S. TROOPS AROUND THE WORLD

Fresh reinforcements for Vietnam pose tough choices for the administration: 1) Calling up reserves, 2) Increasing the draft, 3) Extending present tours of duty, 4) Diverting troops from Europe or Korea, or 5) Dipping deeper into already thinned-out contingency forces in the continental United States, now half what it was in January 1965, before the major Vietnam build-up. Most of the other U.S.-based troops are in training, instructors or performing various specialized and housekeeping functions. Underlined locations on map show where most overseas forces other than in Vietnam and Korea are stationed.

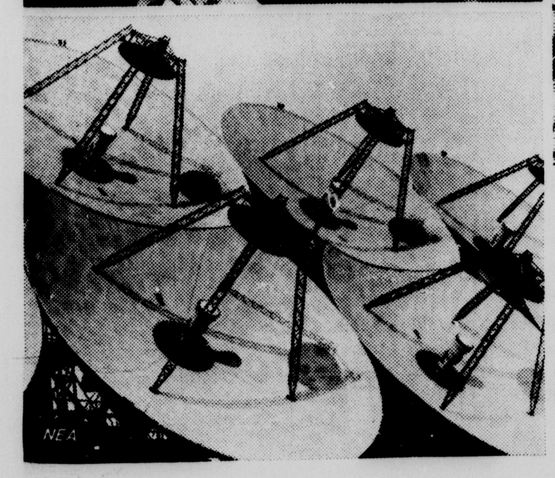

Soviet Space Curtain Lifted

Russia has admitted newsmen to high-security areas heretofore closed not only to foreigners, but to Soviets as well. At Star Village, a community exclusively for Russian cosmonauts and other persons connected with the Soviet space program, children play in kindergarten, above, while their fathers, below, attend classes at the Air Force Academy outside Moscow. At right, a trainee studies slide rule with cosmonaut Gherman Titov. Photos are highlights from a March 1 NBC News color special.

Alexei Leonov, first man to walk in space, with his daughter, above, at their home in Star Village. Antennas, left, are at Center for Distant Cosmic Liaison in the Crimea, where, except for a British scientist, no foreigner has ever been allowed before.

WE LOOK, but do we see? We read, but do we comprehend? Photographer Larry Mulvehill, ever alert to the unusual or off-beat, found these amusing sign situations at New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; a Phoenix, Ariz., traffic court; the Florida Keys; a parking lot in Jacksonville, Fla.; and Water Mill, N.Y.

U.S. TROOPS AROUND THE WORLD

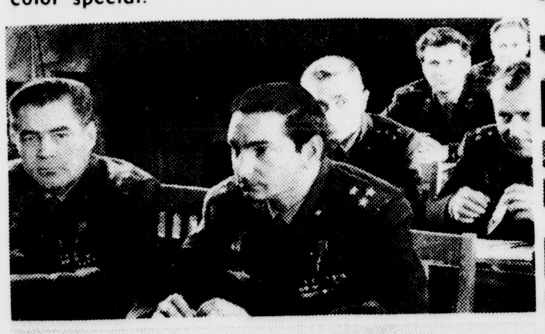

Fresh reinforcements for Vietnam pose tough choices for the administration: 1) Calling up reserves, 2) Increasing the draft, 3) Extending present tours of duty, 4) Diverting troops from Europe or Korea, or 5) Dipping deeper into already thinned-out contingency forces in the continental United States, now half what it was in January 1965, before the major Vietnam build-up. Most of the other U.S.-based troops are in training, instructors or performing various specialized and housekeeping functions. Underlined locations on map show where most overseas forces other than in Vietnam and Korea are stationed.

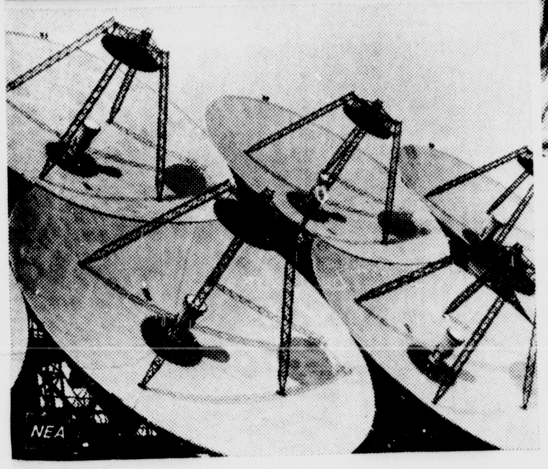

Soviet Space Curtain Lifted

Russia has admitted newsmen to high-security areas heretofore closed not only to foreigners, but to Soviets as well. At Star Village, a community exclusively for Russian cosmonauts and other persons connected with the Soviet space program, children play in kindergarten, above, while their fathers, below, attend classes at the Air Force Academy outside Moscow. At right, a trainee studies slide rule with cosmonaut Gherman Titov. Photos are highlights from a March 1 NBC News color special.

Alexei Leonov, first man to walk in space, with his daughter, above, at their home in Star Village. Antennas, left, are at Center for Distant Cosmic Liaison in the Crimea, where, except for a British scientist, no foreigner has ever been allowed before.

If You Were the Judge

Owner Not Responsible

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Tom was so thrifty he even made use of old razor blades. He shaved with them. In need of a new car, he hunted around for the best deal he could find. What he found, however, was trouble. He bought a car through an acquaintance that was so cheap that he boasted to his wife that it was almost like stealing. And, he wasn't that far wrong. He had bought a stolen car.

Unfortunately, he didn't discover it until he had spent over $500 in repairs. Returning the car to its owner, Tom demanded the return of the $500.

"Since you're getting back a car that's in tip-top condition," Tom argued, "you've got to pay me back what I spent on it."

"Not on your life," was the owner's answer. "I didn't tell you to fix my car. While I may be getting it back in better condition, I'll gladly thank you, but I won't pay you a penny."

And, he didn't. Tom sued for the return of his money in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit thrifty Tom to get his money back?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that an automobile owner cannot be held responsible for repairs to his vehicle when they are made without his knowledge or consent.

(Based upon a 1963 Florida Dist. Court Decision)

Ann Landers

Child Told Wrong Thing

Dear Ann Landers: Our seven-year-old daughter loved her grandpa very much. He was a kindly person who used to take Mary for walks and tell her fascinating stories. Grandpa passed away suddenly two weeks ago. The child was very unhappy about his passing away and it was hard for her to understand why a God who is good would take away her best friend.

Last week Mary was sitting on her grandmother's lap. I heard her ask if God would allow grandpa to play poker in heaven. Her answer was, "Of course not. God does not allow card playing in heaven." (Grandma always hated grandpa's card playing, and everyone knew it, especially grandpa.)

Mary was very sad about this and replied, "Oh, grandma, how too bad! That is what grandpa used to like to do best."

Later my wife and I were discussing the conversation. Do you think grandma was right to answer Mary as she did? ------ Q. Q.

Dear Q. Q.: No. The child was searching for reassurance that her grandpa was happy in heaven. It was not necessary for grandma to give her a small lecture on the moral aspect of cardplaying. If the child should bring up the subject again tell her no one knows for sure what goes on in heaven -- the very best a person can do is guess. And your guess is that grandpa is up there with aces back to back.

Dear Ann Landers: A great deal has been said to unwed mothers, but one seldom hears or reads anything directed to unwed fathers. Why? After all, it is the male who carries the seed of life. Does it not then seem logical that he be held accountable for his behavior?

I have three sons, two in their teens, and I have made it clear to all three boys that if they get a girl in trouble they are going to marry her -- regardless. No red-eyed miss is going to come to THIS house with her father at her side demanding that my son do the right thing. I wish you'd discuss this in your column, Ann Landers. It's a subject that needs airing. ---- MOTHER OF THREE

Dear Mother: I agree -- young men should be taught that they have a responsibility toward the girls they date. Most boys, unfortunately, think they are entitled to everything that is offered plus whatever they can talk a girl into.

On the other hand, I don't believe a forced marriage solves any problems. An unwilling groom makes a poor husband and a worse father.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married less than a year to a man who has many fine qualities, but -- he is an accomplished check dodger.

Whenever we are out with another couple, Norman manages to head for the men's room when he sees the waiter coming with the check. If his timing is poor and he is trapped at the table, he has a knack for looking the other way, or he is so slow about getting out his wallet that someone else pays. I hate for him to be a sponger and wonder why his friends let him get away with it. How can I put an end to it without hitting him head on? --------EMBARRASSED WIFE

Dear Wife: Since Norman seems to have an impediment in his reach, take matters into your own hands. Keep track of whose turn it is to pay and when it is Norman's turn, take the check from the waiter and hand it to him.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35¢ in coin with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Sikeston city election was a quiet affair Tuesday and a light vote was polled. There were only two or three contests and these failed to create very much campaigning by others than the contesting candidates and even some of these did not do much of it. For a fat man, Tom Monan proved a good runner in the race of chief of police, defeating J. E. Forston, who had held the office for two years. Aulton Cravens, who had been city collector for two years, was defeated by Z. Schneider. The only other contest was that for alderman in the second ward, where J. H. Hayden won over John Young.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the local grammer school will present a play on April 17th at the Malone Theatre. Cast members include: Parker Adams and Byron Crain, Estell Meldrum, Irene Cox, Mary Ethel Prow, Elizabeth Welsh, Albert Bruton and Marvin Carroll.

James Johnson of Sikeston was one of eight Scott County boys, who left Monday for the army training camp at Funston, Kas.

The Sikeston board of education on Monday elected Miles C. Thomas of Vandalia, superintendent of the local schools for the coming year to succeed E. D. Lee, who has been the very efficient superintendent for several years.

A party of Sikeston citizens plan to leave tonight for Benton, Ill., to attend the hanging of Chas Birger, convicted murderer and gangster of Southern Illinois. Birger is to be hanged Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dempster delightfully surprised their son, Robert, Sunday by having a number of his young friends in for dinner, the occasion being his 16th birthday. The following guests were present: Noland White, Earl Keller, Conley Purcell, Dan McCoy, jr., Emory Rose and George Dempster.

Rural Electrificiation Administration headquarters in Washington in a communication received here Saturday announces the selection of H. M. Zaricor of Commerce as the superintendent of the Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi County Co-operative Association, which is constructing a 71-mile power line out of the city of Sikeston.

Landscape work on the Bailey School grounds has been completed and gives the school an attractive appearance. Many trees, shrubs and evergreens have been transplanted to the site. Grass has been shown on the grouns, which are so large it was deemed inadvisable to sod them.

Not even rated a "dark horse" in the competition, the Sikeston Bulldog track and field men pulled a mild surprise by placing second in the Scott-Mississippi meet Friday at Charleston as the host school romped off with first place by a heavy margin.

Washington -- Rep. Orville Zimmerman, 67, Missouri Democrat, died today in his office of a heart attack.

In observance of the completion of three years of operation in Sikeston and five in Blytheville, Hart's Bakery today is observing its anniversary.

In a light election yesterday, one new alderman was elected and three were re-elected. The new alderman is Jesse T. Chapman elected in Ward two over Harold Pitman. Re-elect as alderman were Vodrel Kirby in Ward one; Ray Aduddell in Ward three; and Thomas F. Raferty in Ward four. In the only other race in the city election, F. H. Smith was re-elected in a two man race over Brown Jewell.

Darrell Alcorn, who became ill yesterday and was taken to the Southeast Missouri Hospital at Cape Girardeau, this morning underwent an appendectomy at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Smith announce the arrival of a daughter born Tuesday morning, April 6, at the Sikeston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Grugett moved today from the Lindsay apartments to their new home on Taylor avenue.

Formal opening tomorrow of the J. C. Penney department store will disclose an entire new second floor in operation, making the store more than half again as large as it was before Emil E. Leighninger, manager, announced.

Nancy's Sweet Shop, a pastry bakery, will open Friday in the new Gilbert Clinton building on the corner of Highway 61, South, and East Kathleen street. E. F. Mouser is owner of the shop and associated with him will be Elwood Kinder, formerly a baker for Hart's and Welter's bakeries.

Approval of a vocational agriculture department for the high school was received early this week according to a statement made today by Bremen Van Bibber, superintendent of schools. W. Z. Baker, present instructor in vocational agriculture at the high school, will handle the program.

Ralph E. Bailey, prominent Sikeston attorney, died this morning at St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau. He underwent an operation yesterday.

Curtis Bryant and Dick Smith, seniors on the high school basketball squad, were elected co-captains of the 1947-48 basketball team and tied for the title as the teams's most valuable player in an election announced yesterday by Coach Dean Owen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nicholson of Marion, Ind., announced the arrival of a son born April 6. Nicholson is a son of H. M. Nicholson, 315 Gladys street.

Illinois' six home football games this year drew 337,926, almost 40,000 more than ever had seen the Illini eleven at home before.

There were only two or three contests and these failed to create very much campaigning by others than the contesting candidates and even some of these did not do much of it. For a fat man, Tom Monan proved a good runner in the race of chief of police, defeating J. E. Forston, who had held the office for two years. Aulton Cravens, who had been city collector for two years, was defeated by Z. Schneider. The only other contest was that for alderman in the second ward, where J. H. Hayden won over John Young.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the local grammer school will present a play on April 17th at the Malone Theatre. Cast members include: Parker Adams and Byron Crain, Estell Meldrum, Irene Cox, Mary Ethel Prow, Elizabeth Welsh, Albert Bruton and Marvin Carroll.

James Johnson of Sikeston was one of eight Scott County boys, who left Monday for the army training camp at Funston, Kas.

The Sikeston board of education on Monday elected Miles C. Thomas of Vandalia, superintendent of the local schools for the coming year to succeed E. D. Lee, who has been the very efficient superintendent for several years.

Rural Electrificiation Administration headquarters in Washington in a communication received here Saturday announces the selection of H. M. Zaricor of Commerce as the superintendent of the Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi County Co-operative Association, which is constructing a 71-mile power line out of the city of Sikeston.

Landscape work on the Bailey School grounds has been completed and gives the school an attractive appearance. Many trees, shrubs and evergreens have been transplanted to the site. Grass has been shown on the grouns, which are so large it was deemed inadvisable to sod them.

Not even rated a "dark horse" in the competition, the Sikeston Bulldog track and field men pulled a mild surprise by placing second in the Scott-Mississippi meet Friday at Charleston as the host school romped off with first place by a heavy margin.

Washington -- Rep. Orville Zimmerman, 67, Missouri Democrat, died today in his office of a heart attack.

In observance of the completion of three years of operation in Sikeston and five in Blytheville, Hart's Bakery today is observing its anniversary.

In a light election yesterday, one new alderman was elected and three were re-elected. The new alderman is Jesse T. Chapman elected in Ward two over Harold Pitman. Re-elect as alderman were Vodrel Kirby in Ward one; Ray Aduddell in Ward three; and Thomas F. Raferty in Ward four. In the only other race in the city election, F. H. Smith was re-elected in a two man race over Brown Jewell.

Darrell Alcorn, who became ill yesterday and was taken to the Southeast Missouri Hospital at Cape Girardeau, this morning underwent an appendectomy at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Smith announce the arrival of a daughter born Tuesday morning, April 6, at the Sikeston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Grugett moved today from the Lindsay apartments to their new home on Taylor avenue.

Formal opening tomorrow of the J. C. Penney department store will disclose an entire new second floor in operation, making the store more than half again as large as it was before Emil E. Leighninger, manager, announced.

Nancy's Sweet Shop, a pastry bakery, will open Friday in the new Gilbert Clinton building on the corner of Highway 61, South, and East Kathleen street. E. F. Mouser is owner of the shop and associated with him will be Elwood Kinder, formerly a baker for Hart's and Welter's bakeries.

Approval of a vocational agriculture department for the high school was received early this week according to a statement made today by Bremen Van Bibber, superintendent of schools. W. Z. Baker, present instructor in vocational agriculture at the high school, will handle the program.

Ralph E. Bailey, prominent Sikeston attorney, died this morning at St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau. He underwent an operation yesterday.

Curtis Bryant and Dick Smith, seniors on the high school basketball squad, were elected co-captains of the 1947-48 basketball team and tied for the title as the teams's most valuable player in an election announced yesterday by Coach Dean Owen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nicholson of Marion, Ind., announced the arrival of a son born April 6. Nicholson is a son of H. M. Nicholson, 315 Gladys street.

Illinois' six home football games this year drew 337,926, almost 40,000 more than ever had seen the Illini eleven at home before.

Rev. King Given Local Sentiment

Tributes to the Rev. Martin Luther King were made by several Sikeston religious and city leaders Saturday at a meeting in the Masonic Lodge in Sunset and a special memorial service was held Sunday.

A march in honor of the Rev. Mr. King's death had been discussed but was called off.

Mourning, repentence and love were the three themes emphasized in a worship and memorial service held at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Hunter Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The special service was called by the Rev. Lindy Cannon, pastor, for those concerned with the state of our country in the aftermath of the death of Dr. King.

About 170 persons attended the service conducted by ministers of different affiliations.

The Rev. J. W. Gwinn, pastor of the Westend Baptist Church, gave the opening prayer. The Rev. Mr. Cannon read from the Scriptures on each theme, then the Rev. Fr. Robert Schumacher, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, gave a meditation on the theme and the Rev. Joseph Wagner, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read a litany prayer following the meditation.

A special meeting for all concerned with the problems of housing and jobs in Sikeston will be announced from all pulpits Easter Sunday.

A memorial tribute was paid to the work of King in the Saturday meeting by several ministers.

A resolution passed Saturday morning by the city council expressing the city's sympathy at the death of the Rev. Mr. King and affirming the city's belief in the principles of nonviolence was read at the meeting by Mayor Kendall Sikes. It acknowledged King as a great force in America for the settlement of its racial problems on a nonviolent basis.

Negro leaders noted that no violence took place in Sikeston and none was likely to result following the death of King.

All persons attending emphasized support in the principles of nonviolence and asked the white community for more commitment to the cause of equality.

Willie Dixon, president of the Scott County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called on businessmen in the community to open the doors of opportunity for jobs to Negroes.

Better housing and jobs, the two most needed items of Negroes in Sikeston, were discussed by most speakers.

Violence was condemned and the work of Martin Luther King was praised.

Rev. King Given Local Sentiment

Tributes to the Rev. Martin Luther King were made by several Sikeston religious and city leaders Saturday at a meeting in the Masonic Lodge in Sunset and a special memorial service was held Sunday.

A march in honor of the Rev. Mr. King's death had been discussed but was called off.

Mourning, repentence and love were the three themes emphasized in a worship and memorial service held at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Hunter Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The special service was called by the Rev. Lindy Cannon, pastor, for those concerned with the state of our country in the aftermath of the death of Dr. King.

About 170 persons attended the service conducted by ministers of different affiliations.

The Rev. J. W. Gwinn, pastor of the Westend Baptist Church, gave the opening prayer. The Rev. Mr. Cannon read from the Scriptures on each theme, then the Rev. Fr. Robert Schumacher, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, gave a meditation on the theme and the Rev. Joseph Wagner, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read a litany prayer following the meditation.

A special meeting for all concerned with the problems of housing and jobs in Sikeston will be announced from all pulpits Easter Sunday.

A memorial tribute was paid to the work of King in the Saturday meeting by several ministers.

A resolution passed Saturday morning by the city council expressing the city's sympathy at the death of the Rev. Mr. King and affirming the city's belief in the principles of nonviolence was read at the meeting by Mayor Kendall Sikes. It acknowledged King as a great force in America for the settlement of its racial problems on a nonviolent basis.

HAND SHAKING took place as James D. Sickal, right, was named the Outstanding Jaycee of the Year, Saturday night at the Country Club at an annual banquet and dance. First Vice President Charles Walls presents the award. Bill Burch, president, is in center.

Sickal Jaycee of Year

Top awards presented Saturday night at the annual Jaycee installation banquet included the Outstanding Young Educator award given Gordon Beaver, high school choral music instructor, and the Outstanding Jaycee of the Year award to James D. Sickal. The banquet and dance were held at the Country Club.

President Bill Burch was introduced by retiring President John E. Harper.

Other officers installed were Charles Walls, first vice president; Ronnie Miller, second vice president; Frank Harp, secretary; Richard Schindler, treasurer, and Donnie Menkin and Jerry Burge, state representatives. Harold Kuehle and Jim Morrison, both state vice presidents from Cape Girardeau, swore in the group.

Additional awards made were a shining boot award to Jack Sides. Marshal Heisler won a contest over Leonard Campbell, Larry Miller and Don DeRouse, for the title of keeper of the rolls;

The outstanding new Jaycee award went to Frank Harp; the distinguished service award to Dr. William Dillon; and the exhausted rooster award to Joe Marsh.

Six persons were named for the Spoke award, and eight for the sparkplug award.

Retiring president Harper announced the Jaycees had a successful year, beginning in 1967 with a deficit of $12,000 all indebtedness has been liquidated and, he said, there is now a small balance.

The Jaycees took in $500 from light bulb sales, raised $150 to back Bill Burch as a national Jaycee director; made a $200 profit on a Battle of the Bands; $750 from horse show; $250 from duffers tourney; $107 from swimming pool; $14,000 from rodeo; $1,800 from tree of lights; $139 from sale of Valentine candy; $240 from Boy Scout exposition concessions; $30 from an auto show.

Other events included gifts to soldiers in Vietnam; organized basketball team; 4-H steer show; endorsed Connie Mack baseball tournament; Boys State candidates; donated blood to Matthews resident; conducted summer baseball league and sent two Boy Scouts to camp.

Losses included $72 from a boxing tournament; interest and taxes on the Jaycee Bootheel Rodeo and a Halloween parade which was rained out.

New members added during the year were 35.

Charleston Man Wounded by Bullet

CAIRO--A 21-year-old Charleston, Mo., man was wounded by a bullet Saturday after a man was discovered pilfering an auto.

Richard L. Adams, the wounded man, was a patient in St. Mary's Hospital where he is listed in satisfactory condition.

Police said three other white youths, all from Charleston, were picked up and interrogated about the incident. They said Adams will be charged in connection with the theft of two stereo speakers and two cartridges of tape from an auto owned by Steve Owens, Barlow, Ky.

The stolen items were found by police in a field near where Adams fell after being struck by the bullet.

"Ab" Ransom, owner of the Turf Club, said he and others who were in the club had gone outside to check autos after Adams left the club about 2:30 a.m., today. He said several autos had been tampered with near the club recently.

As they checked a street alongside the club, Adams apparently became scared and ran. Ransom said he fired four times with a .38 caliber pistol. Adams was struck in the left hip by one of the bullets and was felled.

Police later halted a car containing the three other youths who had been with Adams. They told investigating officers they had driven around after leaving the Turf and Adams had asked them to let him out near the rear of the Turf Club, but did not indicate what he planned to do. They were to pick him up in a few minutes.

Food, Tobacco, Gum Stolen

NEW MADRID - Food, tobacco and chewing gum were taken in a breakin Saturday night at Halford's Freeze Queen on highway 61, sheriff's officers reported today.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass in a back door.

Taken were 10 pounds of bananas, two boxes of cigars, 12 cartons of cigarettes, 12 cartons of gum and two quarts of chocolate mix.

ELECTED TO HIS THIRD year as mayor is Kendall Sikes, right. He is congratulated by Vice Mayor Arthur Ziegenhorn.

Lilbourn Man Killed

MARSTON - Charles Marlin Greer, 26, of Lilbourn was shot and killed at 6 p.m. Saturday at the Hollywood Courts tavern one mile north of here on highway 61.

Being held at New Madrid County jail in connection with the slaying is Wallace "Catfish" Carden, 38, of Lilbourn.

Witnesses said the two men had quarreled prior to the shooting.

Greer was shot five times with a small caliber revolver.

Carden turned himself in to Johnnie Martin, Lilbourn city marshal, after the shooting.

No charges have been filed. A coroner's inquest was held this afternoon at New Madrid.

Born July 14, 1941, at Matthews, Greer attended Lilbourn schools.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Greer, Lilbourn; two brothers, Marvin, King City, and Glenn, Lilbourn, and two sisters, Mrs. Nadine Holewa, Cicero, Ill., and Christine Greer, Lilbourn.

Services will be 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Assembly of God Church in Lilbourn. Burial will be in Mounds Park Cemetery near Lilbourn with Ponder Funeral Home of Lilbourn in charge.

Five Killed On Highways

Five were killed in two weekend accidents on Southeast Missouri highways.

Four were killed and six injured in a three-car accident 15 miles south of Fredericktown on highway 67 at 1:15 p.m. Sunday.

Killed were Jackie R. Dennis, 20, of Aberdeen, Md., and his twin nine-month old daughters, Donna Ann and Danna Marie, and Mrs. Dorothy Dale, 35, of Winfield.

Injured were Andrew Norrid, 33, and his wife, Mary, 28, St. Louis, both with back injuries; Mrs. Erna Dennis, 23, cuts and scrapes; Georgia Dale, 16, and Jacqueline Dale, 6, cuts and bruises, and Mary Dale, 15, fractured skull.

The injured were taken to the Fredericktown hospital, and Mrs. Dennis was transferred to a St. Louis hospital.

The highway patrol said the car driven by Jackie Dennis was passing another car. Andrew Norrid, driving an oncoming car, applied the car brakes and started to pull his car onto the shoulder.

The car driven by Mrs. Dale then hit the Norrid car in the rear, knocking it into a ditch, state troopers said. The Dale car and the Dennis car then collided.

Cletus Keller, 30, of Perryville was killed when his car ran off highway 25 one mile south of Dutchtown at 1 a.m. Saturday. The accident was not discovered until 11 a.m. Saturday.

Injured was James Thurston, 30, McBride, possible fractured back. He was taken to a Cape Girardeau hospital.

Dennis was traveling to Puxico to attend services for his paternal grandfather, Ed Dennis Sr., who reared him.

Dennis was born Aug. 14, 1947, near Bloomfield. He had returned from Germany where he was stationed with the army.

Survivors are his wife; his father, Ed Dennis Jr. of Grand Rapids, Mich.; his mother, Mrs. Clara Burdette, living in California; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillie May Dennis of Steelville; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gillespie of Bloomfield; two brothers, Caroll Dennis of Grand Rapids and David Dennis of Steelville; one sister, Linda Janette DuLaney of St. Louis.

Dennis' body and the bodies of his twin daughters are at the Watkins and Sons Funeral Home in Puxico.

Automobile Burned

WYATT -- At 5 a.m. Saturday a 1955 Ford automobile was burned in the Wyatt community east of Charleston.

Officers said the fire apparently was set by three Negro girls and a Negro man. Owner of the vehicle also was a Negro.

Duisen Granted Execution Stay

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Supreme Court today granted a 30-day stay of execution to Theodore Anthony Duisen who had been scheduled to die in Missouri's gas chamber April 19 for the strangling death of Patricia Sutterfield, 17. Her body was found in the Meramec River in May 1964.

Duisen's attorney requested the stay for time to file an additional appeal. He said the death sentence was "cruel and unusual punishment and, further, that the method and means of jury selection in capital cases denies appellant equal protection under the laws."

ARLINE AVERY PRESENTS showmanship awards to Joe Myers, Canalou, and Kathy Kem, Matthews, at the 23rd annual 4-H Market Barrow show in New Madrid.

Matthews Girl Wins Award

BY H. H. TOWNSENDJR.

NEW MADRID - Kathy Kem of Matthews took the grand champion award Saturday at the 23rd annual 4-H Market Barrow Show. Her Hampshire hog weighed 198 pounds.

The grand champion brought 85 cents a pound. Donald Bohannon, president of the First National Bank of Sikeston, purchased it.

Reserve Champion honors went to Frances Jones of New Madrid with her 210 pound Berkshire hog. The reserve champion was sold for 50 cents a pound, and was purchased by Tom Furg Hunter of Bootheel Gin Company Inc.

Miss Kem's entry placed first in the lightweight division and Miss Jones' entry placed first in the ideal division.

Miss Kem also won the showmanship award in the girls division. Joe Myers of Canalou won the showmanship award in the boys division. They were each presented a trophy furnished by the Bank of New Madrid and New Madrid Tractor and Implement Co.

In the judging prior to the selection of the grand champion and reserve champion, first and second selections were made in four classes.

Placing first and second in the lightweight class for hogs weighing 180 to 200 pounds were Miss Kem and Paul Wayne Johnson of Canalou.

Frances Jones had the number one entry in the ideal division and Wayne Kem of Matthews was runner up. Hogs in this class weighed 201-230 pounds.

Myers was first and Carless Malloy second in the medium weight division for hogs weighing 231-250 pounds. Both are members of the Canalou 4-H Club.

In the heavyweight category, for hogs weighing 251 pounds and up, Barbara Haubold, Marston, was first and Janet Hulshof of the Shamrock 4-H Club was second.

Crawford Price, University of Missouri Extension Director of Ripley county, judged the show.

Auctioneers for the event were Joe Beck, Floyd Matthews and Dwight Vaughn.

Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The Junior Woman's Club annaul Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday morning at Malone Park.

Children will be divided into three age groups and will hunt for eggs at three separate times. The assembly point will be at the bandstand west of the A & P store.

Children three years old and younger will hunt between 9 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. Tots from 4 to 6 will hunt from 10 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. and children from 7 to 10 will hunt from 11 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

Three prizes will be awarded in each age group to the one who finds the golden egg and the two that find the most eggs.

Mrs. Joanie Stoner and Miss Kathy Old are co-chairmen of the event. A small admission charge will be asked of parents whose children wish to participate.

HAL MARK MCDONALD, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McDonald of Matthews, won first place in the third annual talent and variety show Saturday.

Matthews Boy Tops in Talent

Hal Mark McDonald, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McDonald of Matthews, won first place in the third annual talent and variety show Saturday night at the junior high school. It was sponsored by the Junior Woman's club.

The young piano soloist won with a medley of songs, "Love is Blue", and "Love is a Many Splendored Thing." He won a trip to the Mid-South Fair in Memphis and $35 cash.

Second place went to The Ramblers, a folk trio, who won a prize of $25. Third award went to the Newfound Six, folk singers, with a prize of $15.

Richard Pinkerton, city manager, was a guest soloist at intermission and sang "My Serenade" and "This Is All I Ask", with Mrs. Jo Ann Fox as accompanist.

Dan Norton was master of ceremonies. The 22 contestants included the following:

The Grass Zeppelin, a band; Jan Lea Helems, piano solo; Linda Engram, vocal and dance; The Ramblers, folk trio; Hal Mark McDonald, piano solo; Terry Ture, vocal; The Soul Seekers, band; Tommy Merick, clown dance; The Cousins Three; Ossie and Earl Hubbard, vocal solo; Mary Etta Tucker, piano solo;

The Innocents Children, band; Deborah McClellon, vocal; Cindy Greenwood, piano solo; The Classmates, duo novelty; The Pickett Fence, band; The Neumodrians, vocal group; Charlest Mitchell, vocal solo; Debbie Collins, tap dance; The Reflections, vocalist group; Ann Merick, acrobatic ballet; and The Newfound Six, folk singers.

Kindergarten Enrollment Set

Pre-enrollment for children, who wish to attend the public school kindergarten, next fall will be held in each elementary school April 19 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

In order to be enrolled a child must be five on or before Sept. 15, 1968.

Parents should bring their kindergarten child's immunization record and birth certificate with them, Robert G. Miller, director of elementary education, said. Required immunizations are polio, diptheria, and smallpox.

Parents may indicate a preference for the morning or afternoon session but school officials will make assignments based on bus routes and other factors.

Parents need not bring their youngsters with them to enroll.

"It is important for parents to enroll their children in kindergarten," Miller said. "Much of the work done by first grade teachers will be completed in kindergarten. Children who do not attend kindergarten will be several months behind those who attend."

The kindergarten program will be conducted at two centers, one in the first two buildings on the south side of the Airport campus and the other at the Morehouse elementary school for children who live in that area. The fall term will begin on or about Aug. 28.

Bombing Area Reduced

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson has put almost 5,500 more square miles of North Vietnam off limits to American bombers, U.S. sources said today. Below the demilitarized zone, allied ground forces reported killing more than 700 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in weekend fighting.

Informed sources in Saigon said the American air forces have been told to keep their raids below the 19th Parallel, which is about 170 miles above the demilitarized zone. In the last four days U.S. bombers have struck no farther north than 160 miles above the DMZ.

Highlights and Sidelights from Our State Capitol

Jefferson City, Mo. -- A decision is expected this week on whether Missouri or the federal government will inspect the state's meat packing industry, a spokesman for Agriculture Commissioner Dexter D. Davis says.

Critics of an all-federal program in Missouri fear "unnecessary" closing of some 40 small meat packers as one consequence of what they call "creeping federalism."

The federal Wholesome Meat Act, recently made law, gives states two years to build their own meat inspection programs, or federal inspectors will step in. State standards must at least equal those of the U. S. government.

Missouri now has 30 state meat inspectors who have all been trained at federally inspected meat plants in Missouri by federal instructors at no state expense.

This constitutes the state's meat inspection program built in anticipation of federal meat legislation. It became law four months ago.

But, with only 30 inspectors, the state program is severely crippled. Davis has said he may abandon state inspection to Washington if he doesn't get money for inspectors. The Agriculture Commissioner said he wanted to talk with Gov. Warren E. Hearnes before he reached a decision. The final decision rests with the Governor.

Davis asked the Missouri Legislature during the last special session for 110 inspectors at $500 per month per man. Action in the Senate gave the Agriculture Department 25 inspectors for fiscal year 1969, at about the present $350 per month per man.

Senate opinion feared eventual federal domination of state-meat inspection. "It is possible the Department did not adequately inform the Senate of the conditions, " Frank Erickson, Agriculture press secretary says.

The Wholesome Meat Act provides for a state-federal partnership in meat inspection, the two partners splitting major costs down the middle.

Our responsibility in the Agriculture Department," Erickson said, "is to assure the Senate that primary control of meat inspection will remain with the state" in this case.

But detailed rules and regulations for the partnership have not yet been announced from Washington, Erickson said.

That's one reason Dexter Davis was in Washington last week. He has been appointed to the 17-member Meat Inspection Advisory Committee created recently by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. The committee, which had its first meeting March 27, is to promote state-federal coordination in meat and meat products inspection.

Davis was expected to find out how the state-federal association is to work.

The shared burden could add 25 inspectors to the 1969 state staff. "That means the state program could get by for another year with a total of 50 inspectors, although we could not be as effective or grow as rapidly as we would like," Erickson said.

Missouri inspectors currently work in 54 meat packing plants scattered in the state's larger cities. The goal, Erickson says, is state inspection at 200 of Missouri's 534 plants.

The federal government already inspects meat in 56 state plants. Local city inspectors are in 96 plants.

Plans are near completion to begin inspection in many of Missouri's poultry plants, starting in St. Louis. A survey is now underway to see how many poultry inspectors and processors will be involved.

Erickson said the Department hopes, with federal cooperation, to have 110 inspectors at work in 1970.

"We fought like crazy for more inspectors for 1969," Erickson said, "because we feel the state, and not the federal government, is best equipped to control its own meat inspection."

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Now that President Johnson has declared himself a non-candidate for re-election, we hope that the Republicans do nominate "Tricky" Dick Nixon. We have some place to go now.

* * *

One of the gratifying aspects of recent political developments in this country is that inflation isn't the threat that it was six months ago.

It is true that Congress has not passed a tax increase bill, which many economists say it is needed but the Johnson administration has expressed a willingness to sharply reduce domestic spending.

This has been a requirement that Rep. Wilbur Mills, Arkansas Democrat, has insisted upon before he would recommend any tax increases. Mills is chairman of the powerful house ways and means committee through which tax legislation is handled in the House.

The inflation battle isn't won. Too much emphasis is being placed on money management through the federal reserve board and international monetary organizations. But the outlook is now more hopeful for restraint than it has been in the recent past.

The federal government has a commanding role in controlling inflation. Cooperation by business and labor is desirable but it is secondary.

"The real job of keeping inflation in bounds is up to government monetary and fiscal policy makers," writes Edwin L. Dale Jr. in the New York Times magazine. "It is not painless. Who likes to pay higher taxes? What about the problems of the slums? But it can be done.

"If we want to stop inflation, the place to look is not at unions or steel corporations or doctors or barbers, but at the White House and Capitol Hill. Only they can curb total demand.

"Fortunately the government taken as a whole, is well aware of the situation, and its record has not been bad. It knows that serious inflation is not at all inevitable in the United States, despite the current inflation psychology and state of pessimism. The days of absolute price stability, even as a target, are gone forever, but that does not mean that we are condemned to an age of inflation."

White may be correct in reporting that government by and large has taken steps to control inflation but it has not always acted as rapidly to do it as economists believed to be desirable.

Politics interfere and this is especially true in a presidential election year.

Fortunately President Lynson B. Johnson is no longer under any personal compulsion to make decisions based on their political merit alone.

His decision not to seek the presidential office again gives him a freer hand to act according to the national needs.

If the office of United States Senator from Missouri can be bought, candidate True Davis made a substantial down payment at the Jackson Day event in Springfield last weekend. Those arriving for the occasion were greeted by a fleet of chartered "courtesy" buses, bearing large full-color pictures of Mr. Davis smiling benignly at the world. And if you didn't want to ride a bus, well, you could whistle up one of the seven shiny new station wagons Mr. Davis brought in for the occasion.

He had an airplane too. It flew over Springfield Friday night with his name in lights. The whole thing would have been funny if it had not been for such things as a free liquor get together bulled as a "SWING-IN FOR TRUE - Main Ball Room of the Holiday Inn - 9:00 P.M. to 1:00 A.M. - Ballroom Dancing and Refreshments, Featuring Bill Frichette and Orchestra." At this affair there was plenty of swinging, swaying and staggering too. In addition there were arguments, fights and brawls and some of the guests couldn't "stay the course" and passed out on the lawn. Among other things, numerous coats were stolen.

Mr. Davis' approach was well summed up by the "spontaneous demonstration" his followers staged when he was introduced at the Saturday night dinner.

For the other candidates there were small bands and enthusiastic supporters, shouting their affection for their man; Mr. Davis hired and imported a Negro marching band which performed dutifully.

Some accused Davis of attempting to "buy" the Senate nomination. Davis denied this allegation and said he was attempting only to make his name known, yet "with good taste".

In our opinion, the whole affair was shameful and was purely a vulgar display of wealth. It was NOT in "good taste".

It's Like This . . . In New Orleans, cops found Lawrence Dorsey sitting in a parked automobile behind a suburban bank, locked him up despite his protestations that one of his two loaded pistols was a war souvenir and he just didn't know where the other one had come from.

Four hundred and forty children below high school age were killed and nearly 27,000 were injured during 1965, primarily because they were thrown with little or no training into a dangerous environment that demands a high degree of skill to avoid death.

Parents, in many cases glad to be partially rid of the job of family "chauffeur", allow their children, sometimes as young as age four, to operate bicycles in congested traffic areas as soon as the youngsters are physically capable of doing so.

Police, unwilling to take on the extra workload of supervising and controlling this practice, usually turn their backs and don't even enforce basic traffic laws on such youthful offenders.

How many times have you seen a child ride his bike through a stop sign or stop light or around gates that are down for an approaching train? Millions of youngsters violate these laws many times a day in this country, and yet, how many times have you ever seen one of these offenders pulled over or arrested by police?

Most police chiefs will tell you, "Sure, this is a problem. But where am I supposed to get the manpower to enforce traffic laws on bicyclers?"

Elementary school principals also acknowledge the problem, but add, "Where are we supposed to get the money to set up a bicycle-driver education course?"

Parents say, "Sure it's a problem, but how can I keep a bike away from Junior when all his friends are riding them? Besides, he wouldn't obey traffic laws just because I told him to."

Meanwhile, between the day this was written and the day you are reading, 35 more children have met death while riding their bicycles.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society needs our help! The 1963 MS Hope Chest campaign of the Scott County Chapter is currently under way. It is the annual drive to raise funds for research, patient services and professional and public education.

Multiple sclerosis is a century-old disease but still the cause and cure remain unknown. In MS, the myelin sheath or protective coating of the nerve fibers deteriorates. Scars form and the nerve impulses do not get through to activate muscles to perform their tasks properly.

MS is usually a slow crippler but a progressive one.

The MS Society is the only nation-wide voluntary organization dedicated to work for MS. Since its founding in 1946, it has been a steadily growing force in promoting research into the cause, alleviation and control of MS.

This year the Society has budgeted $1,300,000 for research. The first vial of Salk vaccine is said to have cost $25 million, but who can question the worth of that expenditure? The research program of the Society brings hope to the estimated 500,000 Americans who suffer from MS and related disease. Won't you be generous when the MS volunteer calls?

The National Association of Manufacturers has noted, "American industry is concerned over the proposed federal legislation which would give to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission powers comparable to those assumed by the National Labor Relations Board in regulating industry. The commission presently has ample avenues at its command to encourage business and industry to live up to the spirit of the law. Since remarkable progress is being made, further federal mandate is neither necessary or helpful. Less government control helps create the climate which makes more job opportunities possible."

NEW YORK (AP) - Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You'd never guess it by looking at her-because she doesn't like to show her age-but the average U. S. working woman is getting older. She's 40 now. In most cases she's got a husband, too. Over 57 per cent of working women are married.

And old saying goes, "It ain't what you want that makes you fat - it's what you eat." What you eat also makes you smart. Scientists now link imparied intelligence and slow learning ability with malnutrition in early childhood.

Prosperity note: Some 79 per cent of American families now own automobiles, and 25.1 per cent have two or more.

Sometime this year the nation's trucks and passenger vehicles will reach the 1500 million mark, or one for every two persons. Only four automobiles were registered in the United States in 1895. And here's an irony, in 1904 only two cars were registered in Kansas City - and these two had a collision.

Where is the safest place to live? Alaska has the highest death rate from accidents of all the states. The injury rate from accidents in generally highest in the West, lowest in the Middle Atlantic and Northeastern states. For persons under 25 it is lowest in the South, but highest there for the elderly.

Lady, does your husband sometimes complain that you and the kids are crowding him out of his castle? By sending 15 cents to the American Humane Association in Denver, Col., he can get a pamphlet entitled, "How to Build a Doghouse."

CUSSERS AND DOUBTERS

President Johnson's speech writer did a dilly a few days back when he had the chief pitchman for the Great Society hoping for the day when "the cussers and the doubters will be relegated to the rear. . ."

Those two classifications take in a lot of territory and manpower these days. If the White House press corps is to be believed, President Johnson himself is a candidate for membership. It's a prerogative of Presidents that they can't be quoted verbatim unless an official transcript is put together with a figurative ribbon and seal on ii; otherwise, so we hear, a lot of family newspapers would be using dots, dashes and asterisks to record the Texan's more pithy comments on certain of his enemies and erstwhile friends.

For our part, we're willing to have the cussers "relegated to the rear," whatever their station in life. Cussers don't make good newspaper copy since they rarely contribute anything original or clever. But the President's speech writer notwithstanding, there is a place for cussers in the Great Society. The cartoonists' caricature of the cusser is the man who clobbers a thumb with a hammer while hanging a picture of his President, or his mother-in-law. But we live in an age when Big Brother in Washington clobbers the poor guy on both thumbs and at least a like number of fingers with regularity, just to remind him who is boss. And after so much clobbering, a cusser response is inevitable.

As for the doubters, the rear is generously peopled with those already. Most of the citizenry is hanging back in its enthusiasm for some of the Great Society measures that we can think of. They're doubters -- about the War on Poverty, McNamara, the surtax on taxes, building bridges to Moscow, embracing Kosygin, shipping food to Communist countries, the UN and foreign aid.

Indeed, the polls indicate an increasing number of doubers about President Johnson himself. He made a reputation as a whiz in Congress where he was wheeling and dealing with his own element. But leading the country has been another matter.

Perhaps it all goes to prove something we heard many years ago, to the effect that no horse trader ever made a success of running a livery stable.

May it applies to the Great Society, too.

LITERAL HOOSIERS

Some people take things much too literally. There is the story about the farmer whose barn burned down. He called his insurance company and asked for a check for $1,000.

"Oh, we don't pay off our claims in cash, sir," the company explained. "Under our policy of replacing things, we'll build you an identical barn."

"Well, okay on the barn," the farmer agreed, "but if that's the way you settle claims, you can just cancel the insurance policy on my wife!"

GOOD GROMING NOTES (Hands and Nails Department): A man can get a good masculine sheen on his fingernails by buffing them brisky with a terry towel. . . A good borax soap powder and a toilet pumic stone will get nicotine stains off fingers. . . For other stubborn stains on hands, try using a boiled potato as you would soap. It will also soften the skin. . . A kitchen match with the tip moistened will remove most ink stains from fingers, and the inside of the skin of a banana will do almost as good a job.

Did you hear about the old maid who went into the mail order business. . . the first day she ordered three males!

A man will remain a rag-picker as long as he has only the vision of a rag-picker. We should have ambition to do our best, and refuse to accept our second best. Doing easy things does not tax us, neither does it challenge us. It is a good plan to make it a point to tackle one hard job every day. If we do this, we will find that we have exercised our will power, our minds, and our bodies to good purpose. One of the rewards of learning to do hard things is the capacity for doing still harder things.

Doc. Duncan Says

Gramp, if a grown man jumps on a boy 18 years old and hurts him can't his father or mother sue that get in court and get damages?

Sure. The boy is under age.

Then how come they is draftin 18 and 19 year olds and sendin them to the war to fight grown men? Can't fathers make damages offen somebody?

Donno. When they have a dictatorship they lay the Constitution down and take the bull by the horns.

H.L. Hunt Says

THE AIRBORNS DETERRENT TO AGGRESSION

The Strategic Air Command plays a key role in the defense of the United States. At all times its planes are in the air, ready to strike back if this country is attacked, thus deterring would-be aggressors. U. S. citizens should be alarmed that serious consideration is being given to ending the Strategic Air Command's "airborne alert."

This proposal grew out of the propaganda outcry which occurred two years ago when a S.A.C. bomber lost four H-bombs off the cost of Spain. It intensified this year when a B-52 S.A.C. bomber carrying H-bombs crashed in Greenland. The communist press and Farleft writers spread alarmist stories about the danger of these bombs. Pressure was brought to bear on our government to ground all H-bomb carrying planes.

The fact that these bombs were not armed and therefore harmless was lost in the propaganda barrage. The obvious motive of the communists in urging the U. S. to surrender part of its nuclear deterrent was ignored.

The Defense Department's annual report to the Senate Armed Services Committee on January 22 emphasized the importance of the S.A.C. airborne alert. The report stated that a mixed striking force of missiles and armed bombers was absolutely essential. Missile sites on the ground might be destroyed in a nuclear attack, yet airborne bombers would remain safe to deliver a counter-attack. This "second-strike" potential deters nuclear war.

It is playing into the hands of the enemy for our country to allow misleading propaganda to determine its course of action. The nation's safety hinges on a strong deterrent force, and this deterrent force requires the airborne alert of the Strategic Air Command. HLH

Washington - Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

DREW PEARSON AND JACK ADERSON SAY: LBJ's meeting with RFK was quietly dramatic; LBJ's aloofness on Humphrey candidacy didn't shock him; he understands President's problems.

WASHINGTON -- High drama swirled publicly around the White House last week. High drama also moved inside the White House as the President held a meeting with the brother of the late President who has publicly labeled him a national disaster; then with the vice president who may oppose Bobby Kennedy; then with the cabinet.

The meeting with Senator Kennedy and his adviser, Ted Sorensen, both entering by the side door, was without fireworks. The President had not been happy over Bobby's charge that he, Lyndon Johnson, had been responsible for dop addiction among students and for draft - card burnings. He had been hurt over Bobby's charge that he had torn the country to pieces.

But he did not say anything when Bobby entered. Instead they sat down across the room from the President's desk, Bobby and Sorensen on the sofa which had been there since the days of JFK, the President in the big rocking chair which he had adopted ever since John F. Kennedy's death.

The President called for a map of North Vietnam and proceeded to brief the senator on the bombing pause, explaining why he had aroused the wrath of Sen. Bill Fulbright, D-Ark., by continuing to bomb up to the 20th parallel.

He explained that Fulbright had been briefed by Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford on Sunday, before the President's fireside chat. Clifford had gone out to Fulbright's home to tell him exactly what was going to happen, and explain that bombing would have to continue along the supply routes into the southern corridor of North Vietnam, otherwise American troops would be endangered.

Fulbright had telephoned the President after the speech to congratulate him, but later blasted LBJ in the press, denouncing the bombing pause as a deceptive sham. The President seemed to think Fulbright had rejected the proposal on behalf of Ho Chi Minh, who later accepted it.

CLARK CLIFFORD's PLAN

Johnson pointed out on the map the manner in which North Vietnamese supplies were coming down the long corridor adjacent to Laos, then slipping across the Laotian border to be smuggled into South Vietnam later.

"I got together with some of my best advisers, including Arthur Goldberg," the President said. "We figured we had to keep bombing this corridor. Clark Clifford has been working on this plan day and night. Nick Katzenbach urged that my speech not be in the form of an ultimatum. We are ready to follow up any overture."

He also showed Bobby that 78 per cent of North Vietnamese territory and 90 per cent of the population would be exempt from bombing, including the streets of Haiphong, which he said were now stacked with war supplies.

The President did most of the talking. Bobby did not interrupt. At the end of the briefing, the young candidate who had been trying to defeat the man who is now bowing out as President, asked the President what his political plans were.

The President made it clear that he was going to remain aloof from the political rivalries of the candidates -- for the time being.

"I'm not interested in this job for the salary," he said, "nor for the social activities."

There were a few more polite exchanges. Kennedy and Sorensen bowed out.

HHH AND LBJ

A few minutes later, vice president Humphrey came in. He and Johnson have become extremely close. Not always has it been this way. At first there were minor irritations between them. But the President has been increasingly grateful for Humphrey's devotion, especially recently when the going was rough. Last fall the President had said in the presence of Mrs. Johnson, Secretary of State Rusk, and Humphrey that he was not going to run again, and that he considered retiring early to let Hubert take over so as to get a head start on the Presidency.

He added, however, that this would look like a deal, so instead he would throw his weight to Hubert to corral delegates at the Democratic national convention.

With this background, the two men met last week. But now the President explained that he felt he must remain aloof from the political arena. It was best for national unity and the goal of peace.

It was not entirely a shock to the vice president. He had an inkling of what was on the President's mind. Earlier he had known of his deep worry of disunity in the nation.

"The board of directors isn't satisfied with the management," the President had confided. "The shareholders aren't happy. I think I could get nominated. I think I could be re-elected. But what's the use of leading a country which is divided, where the congress won't pass a tax bill, where we're facing devaluation of our currency, where white men are against black, the Irish against the Jews, and where the press distorts everything you do? If I recited the Lord's prayer, Newsweek would say that I didn't do it right."

The vice president knew how hard the President had worked, how hard he had tried to improve the nation's health. He knew how many avenues he had explored for peace, how hard he had tried to cooperate with the congress, how many times he had summoned congressional groups and the governors of states to the White House for conferences.

He understood the President's mood. He was not surprised or hurt at the news that he would remain aloof from political combat.

From their talk together, the President and the vice President stepped into the cabinet room for the first dramatic meeting with the cabinet after the news that Johnson would not run again. An account of this meeting will be published tomorrow.

DOCKERS' WALLOP!

Longshoremen to Boycott Swedish Ships Until Stockholm Ousts U. S. Army Deectors

New York: -- American Longshoremen are preparing to put their "hook" into Sweden in retaliation against Stockholm's warm hospitality towards 28 U. S. military defectors.

The dockwallopers' hook is a mightly effective invisible weapon -- the boycott. It could cost the Swedish government and its ultrasophisticated industrial complex hundreds of millions of dollars as long as the regime welcomes U. S. deserters.

The Longshoremen leaders plan, simply to ask their 110,000 pier workers to the U. S. and Canada to refuse to unload Swedish imports -- especially cars. Swedish cars rank fourth in foreign car sales in the U. S. In 1966, Sweden sold 56,500 autos here.

While the primary target of the longshoremen's two-coast boycott would be the Swedish car industry, pickets could also cripple another $275 million worth of imports from that land as well as tie up Swedish shipping and air lines.

"It's a hell of a thing to encourage the desertion of American soldiers," snapped International Longshoremen's Assn. (AFL-CIO) President Teddy Gleason who has some mighty muscle to flex at home and abroad.

"It's one matter to give sanctuary or asylum to political defectors, but it's another to see the Swedish people encourage defections from our armed forces at a time like this, and to learn that they provide the deserters with homes, and that there are private organizations which even offer them living allowances, girls and homes. Why, then, should we encourage those who encourage the weakening of our army? Why should we help their economy?

"We can hurt and we plan to do just that."

In a few days, Gleason will call his vice presidents together for an official directive. A poll of some of these men reveals they're ready to launch the boycott.

It will take several weeks after the decision before the boycott apparatus can swing into action. The longshoremen in such direct "job actions" work from master lists, bills of lading and other information from their global intelligence network.

Think what you will of their right to affect foreigh commerce or to make foreign policy -- but don't think for a moment these longshoremen haven't the power to do both. They have.

They're still boycotting Soviet ships. They still won't unload cargoes from the USSR even when transshipped is more politically neutral bottoms.

The American longshoremen are the pivotal power in the London-based, 6.5 million-member International Transportworkers Federation (ITF) -- a network of transport unions throughout the free world.

Recently this international transport "secretariat" wanted to hit the military junta in Greece with a short but paralyzing protest transport strike. ITF's General Secretary, Hans Imhof, write, cable and telephoned Gleason. In effect, he said that the Greek government would not be impressed, not would the boycott be effective unless the American longshoremen refused to unload Greek flag ships.

Gleason angered Imhof, first by ignoring his appeal and then by telling him during a transatlantic telephone conversation that he was not going to jump on the "bandwagon," and then by saying that boycott of the Greek military government was against U. S. State Dept. policy.

Gleason and his colleagues still smart from the disdainful slap they got from the ITF when the U. S. longshoremen urged a global boycott of Cuba and North Vietnam. Why, asked Gleason the other day, should they have turned us down then and now come to us for action against a friendly government?

Without the ILA's assistance, there was no boycott, short or long, of Athens' shipping fleets, railroads or airlines.

This, of course, is a measure of the same power long encountered by several American presidents, the U. S. State Department, far-flung American industries, and many port city governments. It was the ILA's boycott of copper imports last month which forced President Johnson to call in both sides in the seven month copper and nonferrous metal strike.

It was the ILA's closing of New York Harbor which forced two powerful governors, Nelson Rockefeller and Richard Hughes, to back down from their pressure to "license" new longshoremen unwanted by the union.

It is the ILA's preparations, beginning now, for Atlantic and Gulf coast contract negotiations late this summer, which is worrying the White House.

So a boycott of Swedish imports hardly is a problem to the dockers. It begins to look like each U. S. military defector will cost Sweden millions of dollars a man.

Jill Smith Receives Scholarship

Miss Myra Ellen "Jill" Smith of Kelso, a student at Southwest Missouri State College, Springfield, received a scholarship for the 1968 Spring semester from the Scott County Easter Seal funds.

Miss Smith is a sophomore and maintains a 3 grade average. Her major is special education which includes teaching areas in mental retardation, speech therapy, deafness, blindness, and minimal brain damage. She gratuated as salutatorian from Notre Dame high school in Cape Girardeau and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith Jr. of Kelso.

Sikeston students collected more than $500 in the 1967 Easter Seal drive and on the basis of their collections it was decided that the Scott County Society give $500 for a scholarship.

Members of the high school student council conducted side walk collections downtown and car stops over the weekend and plan collection this weekend.

New Covenant in My Blood

BY THE REV. FR. ROBERT SCHUMACHER
Pastor of
St. Francis Xavier Church

Jesus referred to the Eucharist, when He established it, as "the new covenant in my blood." Meditating on the Eucharist as covenant can be very helpful in the appreciation of the Christian life.

The old covenant was the agreement between God and His people: "You will be my people; I will be your God." It involved a mutual promise. God promised to lead them to the land of their fathers, to care for them there, and to make them a great nation. The people promised to do what ever God commanded them.

In their liturgy, the chosen people celebrated the yearly renewal of this covenant in the Passover. The great Passover meal was a re-enactment of the meal eaten by the Hebrews as they left Egypt. At this meal, the goodness and power of God were recalled, as He led them from Egypt to the Promised Land, making the covenant with them along the way. At this meal they were reminded of God's commitment: "I will be your God." They made again their commitment: "We will do whatever you command us."

By His life and death, Jesus established the new covenant. Jesus as God gives Himself to man, promising to be with us always, to bring happiness that follows. (Heaven is our promised land.) Jesus as man, representing mankind, gives Himself to God - by His obedience, His love for God and all God's people, by His suffering and death. This mutual giving is the new covenant - God gives Himself to man; man gives himself to God.

In the Eucharist, the Christian community celebrates this covenant. In the Eucharist, Jesus our God gives Himself to us: "This is my body, which is being given for you --my blood, which shall be shed for you." In the Eucharist, He makes His greatest promise: "He who eats this bread shall be shed for you." In the Eucharist, He makes His greatest promise: "He who eats this bread shall live forever." In the Eucharist, Jesus our brother gives himself to his heavenly Father, and we join with Him in giving ourselves: "For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord until He comes."

Whenever the Christian community celebrates the Eucharist, we renew our acceptance of God's goodness, and our commitment to God's will. In the Eucharist, God says again: "I am your God." In the Eucharist, we say again: "We will do whatever you ask of us."

New Madrid WSCS Has Easter Program Thursday

NEW MADRID -- The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the parlor of the educational building at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Fourteen members attended.

Mrs. Harold Sloas, president, opened the meeting with a devotional, which was given at the Missouri East Conference at Jefferson City.

Mrs. D. B. Riley, program leader, presented an Easter program. Mrs. G. G. Dawson was narrator, with the group giving responses.

Giving the scriptures were Mrs. Louis Evans, Mrs. David Townsend, Mrs. Elsie Stepp, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Preston Utterback, Mrs. Bill Secoy, Mrs. Scott Ruby and Mrs. Sloas.

Mrs. Dawson closed the program with a prayer.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given.

The annual district meeting will be April 30 at Caruthersville.

Mrs. Harry Hart, campus ministry chairman, received a thank you note from Mary Beth Meier.

The group discussed buying two air conditioners for Sunday School rooms.

A report on the annual Missouri East Conference was given by Mrs. Sloas.

Mrs. Riley, chairman of the nominating commitee, gave a report. A complete list of new officers will be presented at the next meeting.

A film about the Lake of the Ozarks parish was shown.

Oklahoma State Leads Big Eight Baseball Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma State is off to an unbeaten start in quest of its third straight Big Eight baseball championship, and the most impressive factor for Coach Chet Bryan's club is a talented cast of newcomers.

Sophomore Mike Camp, 6-foot-4 right-hander with a powerful fast ball, pitched 9 1-3 innings of shutout ball in relief as OSU won the opener of a Saturday doubleheader at Iowa State 4-3 in 10 innings.

Steve Houck, a sophomore outfielder, belted a three-run home run to lead OSU's 22-4 avalanche victory in the second game. Another sophomore, Bob Richardson, was the winning pitcher in the series opener Friday, when catcher Bob Hudspeth, a junior college transfer, drove in four runs.

Bryan's veterans are looking good, too. Pitcher Bill Dobbs, winner in the final game, has a 2-0 record and three solid jobs. Shortstop Danny Thompson was 4-for-10 Saturday, third baseman Alan Johnson 4-for-8 and outfielder Wayne Weatherly 4-for-11. Outfielder Jim Hays, much improved over his part-time .104 mark of last year, belted three doubles.

Kansas State, Oklahoma and Missouri — in a triple tie at 2-1 after the opening weekend of the season — look like OSU's chief challengers. Colorado could be in this class if pitching ace Taylor Toomey regains his form. Colorado plays at OSU this Friday and Saturday, while Oklapoma is at K-State, Iowa State at Missouri and Kansas at Nebraska.

K-State's Van Bullock, a little left-hander, pitched a two-hitter while shortstop Joe Spurgeon made three excellent defensive plays and ripped a three-run triple during an eight-run second inning. The Wildcats won 10-2 at Lawrence.

K-State's Jim Brown stole second and home for the first run off KU starter Roger Jackson. Relief pitcher Richard Slicker homered for KU.

Colorado pitcher Lloyd Hutchinson belted a two-run homer in a six-run first inning and struck out nine in a 12-4 victory at Boulder, but Missouri came back to win the second game 7-3, taking the series. Jim Loving hit a three-run homer in the first inning for Mizzou, and later Steve Lundholm and Rudy Stroupe also homered for the Tigers.

Mick Logue, Nebraska's sophomore right-hander, refused to crack with men on base and went all the way to a 2-1 victory at Norman, preventing a series sweep by Oklahoma. OU got nine hits but only two walks and left 11 men stranded. Both Nebraska runs were unearned off sophomore Ron Hall.

Thinclads Rank Fifth

After being rained out at Charleston Tuesday, the Bulldogs took fifth in their first meet at the Kennett Invitational Friday. Cold weather and an exciting bus trip, in which the bus almost had an accident because of a blowout, kept the team from doing better.

Kennett dominated the meet, scoring 83 points to second place Cape Central's 46 points. Charleston was third and Poplar Bluff placed fourth with Sikeston fifth. Other teams participating were Dexter, Deering, Caruthersville and Delta.

Most of Sikeston's scoring was done by Art Jackson, who took home four first place trophies. Art won the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, the broad jump, and ran the third leg of the 880-yard relay. The 880 relay team brought home the only team trophy with a winning time of 1:36.4. Members of the relay team are Riley Gross, Terry Bryant, Art Jackson and Dennis Snelling.

David Newberry placed third in the pole vault with a vault of 12 feet but had fewer misses and took first and second.

David won the pole vault at Charleston with a vault of 11 feet five inches in the rain, but Sikeston left before the finals started. David's personal goals this year are to vault 13 feet and go to the state meet in Columbia.

Other boys who brought home ribbons were Dennis Snelling, Turner Marshall, Riley Gross, Terry Bryant and Gary Long. Snelling placed third in the 100-yard dash and Marshall placed fifth in the broad jump. The mile relay team composed of Marshall, Gross, Long and Bryant, placed fifth.

Sikeston's distance runners made impressive showings and just barely missed getting ribbons. Jim Carney and John Lett placed sixth and seventh in the half mile run. Tom Dunn and Don Littleton placed sixth and seventh in the mile run. And Jim Lewis placed seventh in the two mile run.

Sikeston's next meet will be Saturday at the Paducah Invitational.

Sports Corner

By Ron Jaynes

The defending World Champions, a team with everything, and the Detroit Tigers, a team that missed out in its bid for a league pennant last season look like baseball's best clubs. They are being chosen here to win the respective National and American League pennant races and meet in the World Series.

The Cardinals are breaking from the National League with a staff that showed 91 pitching victories in 1967 and show definate signs of an even better record with Bob Gibson at full strength.

The team is set on a solid starting lineup with good speed, defense and a backup crew second to none in the league.

As for the American League Tigers -- their hopes lie in pitching with power hitters such as Al Kaline, Willie Horton, Norm Cash, Bill Freehan and Eddie Matthews providing the offense.

Keeping the veterans healthy... especially Kaline, Horton and Matthews are the keys for the Detroit pennant Hopes.

Here's the way it looks from here.

Big Week For SHS Athletes

After rain forced postponment of a number of last week's sports activity at SHS . . . the athletes will try again starting today. A full schedule is set for the week with the track, tennis, golf and baseball teams getting into the picture.

Sports will have another busy week again at SHS.

The baseball team and the track team will get little rest over the Easter holidays.

The golf squad will start things off by venturing to visit the Bearcats at Dexter today. Sikeston has one of the better teams in the area and is expected to have little trouble with the Cats.

The junior varisty will open its track season with the first meet of the year at Poplar Bluff.

While the junior varsity is at Bluff the varsity will be training heavily for the tough track meet at Paducah. Sikeston will be one of four Missouri teams there.

During the past four years Missouri squads have won the meet all four times. Kennett winning three times and Cape Girardeau Central once.

Coach Lambert was happy with the performances of his boys at the Kennett invitational meet Friday, and feels that his team is a team that is a year away from hitting its peak. The Dogs took fifth place at Kennett.

He looks for Art Jackson, Dennis Snelling, and David Newberry to be standouts at Paducah. He expects Newberry to be pushing the school record of 12 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault. The record was set by Alan Craig last year. David already has cleared 12 feet.

The baseballers have by far the busiet schedule for the week and Easter vacation with four games on tap. The first game will be here with the Oran Eagles Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. Oran defeated the Dogs earlier 3-0.

Mike Garner or Ed Throop are expected to go on the mound.

Next the baseballers will travel to Cape Central for a game with a rugged Tiger team. The game will start at 3:30 p.m. Thursday. Garner or Throop, depending on who pitched Wednesday will throw against the Tigers with Les Schaztley and Steve Counts in the bullpen.

The final stop for the Dogs will be at Paducah Saturday with the track team. There will be a double header schedule to be played with the starting time of the first game to be 1 p.m. The pitchers are uncertain. Paducah rarely has a bad baseball team so it seems that the Bulldogs will have their hands full with the busiest week of the season and playing most likely their toughest opponents of the year.

The tennis team will have a week off to prepare for their coming meet with Kennett April 16.

All in all it will be a busy week at the high school. Spring sports really start to get into the swing of things.

Cards Delay NL Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies were caught in a rundown between Walter O'Malley and Warren Giles today as the Los Angeles Dodgers considered opening the 1968 baseball season all by themselves.

Los Angeles owner O'Malley was to decide today whether or not to go ahead with Tuesday night's scheduled home opener against Philadelphia — a game the Phillies have refused to play.

The Dodgers were left holding the ball Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox pushed back their Tuesday openers one day, joining seven other major league clubs which had postponed opening home games in deference to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Funeral services for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta.

National League President Giles left it up to the Dodgers, as the home club, to decide whether to go through with their game.

John Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, said earlier his club would not take the field at Los Angeles Tuesday night, at the risk of a possible forfeit and fine — because of the King funeral that afternoon.

The other opening games in each league, including the presidential fixture at Washington, all were set for Wednesday.

President Johnson was expected to miss the Senators' debut against the Minnesota Twins — one of five afternoon openers in the American League. The White Sox entertain Cleveland, Boston's defending champions are at Detroit, the new Oakland Athletics at Baltimore and California at New York in other AL inaugurals.

The Chicago Cubs visit Cincinnati and the New York Mets are at San Francisco in National League afternoon games. Pittsburgh is at Houston and Atlanta at St. Louis under the lights.

While O'Malley and Bavasi pondered the possibility of opening the season without an opponent, LA Manager Walter Alston checked into an Inglewood, Calif., hospital Sunday for treatment of a kidney stone and the Dodgers whipped Cleveland 5-1 in the lone exhibition finale.

All the other exhibition games were canceled in line with the designation of Sunday as a day of mourning for Dr. King.

A Dodgers team physician said Alston, beginning his 15th season as dean of major league managers, has a stone in the right kidney. "As soon as it passes we'll let him go," said Dr. Robert Woods. He said doctors might use a tube to remove the stone if it had not passed today.

Big Names Omitted In Selection Of Olympic Basketball Squad

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — U.S. Olympic basketball Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State feels foreign competition will be plenty rough and might tall.

A 12-man U.S. team was named Sunday, banking more on quickness than on size.

The Olympic trials ended Saturday night with the NAIA All-Stars whipping a cold-shooting AAU team 64-59 in the tile game. More than 80 players were considered in the three-day tournament in Albuquerque.

A 45-man committee picked this team:

NAIA— Glynn Saulters, 6-foot-2, 175 pounds, Northeast Louisiana; Don Dee, 6-7, 205, St. Mary of the Plains, Kan.

AAU— Calvin Fowler, 6-1, 170, Akron, Ohio, Goodyear; James King, 6-7, Goodyears.

Junior College All-Stars— Spencer Haywood, 6-8, 230, Trinidad, Colo., Junior College.

Armed Forces— Mike Barrett, 6-2, 155, U.S. Navy and former West Virginia Tech collegian; John R. Clawson, 6-4, 200, U.S. Army and Michigan; Mike Silliman, 6-6, 225, U.S. Army and U.S. Military Academy.

NCAA - Ken Spain, 6-9, 225, Houston; Jo Jo White, 6-3, 194, Kansas; Bill Hosket, 6-7, 228, Ohio State, Charlie Scott, 6-4, 180, North Carolina.

Alternates— Don Issel, Kentucky, Tom Black, Goodyears, George Carter, U.S. Army; Charles Paulk, Northeastern Oklahoma; Rick Mount, Purdue; and Joe Hamilton, Southwest Christian, Tex.

Iba said the 12 first-team selections will gather at Alamosa, Colo., in early September and four weeks of high-altitude training before exhibition games against professional teams in New York's Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati and possibly Albuquerque.

SHS Netmen Even Mark

The Bulldog netmen brought their record to two and two Saturday by manhandling the Kennett Indians. The Dogs did not lose a single match and left the Kennett court with all the marbles.

Naturally, Coach Weichand was happy with the performance of the squad. He feels that the netmen have found their grove and hopes they can stay in it for the remainder of the season.

Brad Crumpecker remained undefeated by beating his opponent easily, 6-3 and 6-2. This is the fourth victory in a row for the ace Bulldog.

Jeff Comer made an impressive showing in his first meet of the year by beating Keith Parker of Kennett 6-1, 7-9, and 6-3.

Don Choate won over Harraway 6-0 and 6-3. Bucko Miller sparkled in his match by winning 6-3 and 6-4. Hank Lippert slipped by Robert Pritchard 9-7 and 6-1.

In the last single Bob McCord defeated a tough Mike Crafton 6-1, 3-6, and 6-4. This was the most exciting match.

In the doubles the Sikeston squad shined brightly by winning both sets. In the first Hank Lippert and Brad Crumpecker ran over Jim Story and Robert Pritchard of Kennett 6-2 and 6-1.

In the second doubles Bucko Miller and Bob McCord had a little rougher time with Ben Green and Mike Crafton, but finally won going away. Their scores ere 6-3, 1-6, and 6-2.

The tennis team will have this week off and will work toward their rematch with the Kennett team April 16.

The meeting will be held here. Starting time is 3:30 p.m.

Yaz Declines Prediction

BOSTON (AP) — A year ago Carl Yastrzemski drew polite smiles of friendly laughter when he predicted the Boston Red Sox would win the American League baseball pennant as 100-1 longshots.

Now the Triple Crown winner smiles politely in refusing to make any predictions on the 1968 flag chase.

"You just can't make any predictions on how we'll do at this time," Yaz said while waiting for his turn in the batting cage Sunday during a workout at Fenway Park.

"Last year I knew for sure the talent was there," he said. "We had (Tony) Conigliaro and Jim Lonborg healthy and ready at the start. Now things look bad for Tony, and Lonborg may miss the first month.

"We have too many ifs to make a sound prediction— but I'll guarantee that we'll be shooting for it all again."

Yastrzemski, who hit .326 with 44 homers and 121 runs batted in en route to the AL's Most Valuable Player award last season, pronounced himself fit for the start of the 1968 campaign.

Conigliaro suffered a cracked left cheekbone and a serious eye injury when struck by a fast ball thrown by California's Jack Hamilton last Aug. 18.

Lonborg's left knee was injured in a skiing accident Dec. 23.

Sports Events Slowed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Athletic activity continued at a virtual standstill today as the sports community joined the rest of the nation in mourning the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The funeral for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta, and few sports events will be held until after the services.

Exceptions included the final two rounds of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament set for today, an International Hockey League playoff at Muskegon, Mich., and an American Hockey League playoff at Providence, R.I., tonight. Some horse racing also was on tap.

The Greensboro Open already has been postponed twice— Friday because of rain and Sunday in deference to the memory of Dr. King.

The Los Angeles Dodgers said they would decide today on whether to postpone their National League baseball opener at home Tuesday night against Philadelphia. The Phillies have said they will not play, at the risk of forfeiture and fine.

The other 18 major league clubs will open the season Wednesday. Three games, including the presidential opener in Washington, originally were scheduled today. Six had been set for Tuesday.

All of the final baseball exhibition games Sunday were canceled with the exception of the Cleveland-Los Angeles game at San Diego, Calif.

There was no action Sunday in major league hockey and basketball.

The National Hockey League playoffs resume Tuesday night with Chicago at New York, Montreal at Boston and Los Angeles at Minnesota. Philadelphia plays at St. Louis Wednesday night.

The American Basketball Association playoffs get under way again Tuesday night with New Orleans at Dallas. Pittsburgh is at Minnesota Wednesday.

Postseason play in the National Basketball Association resumes with Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles Wednesday night.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ch. Shamrock's Acres Light Brigade, a 3-year-old Labrador retriever, was named best in show Sunday night at the annual International Dog Show. Owned by Mrs. James Gets of Lake Forest, Ill., Light Brigade is the first retriever to win the Chicago event.

WESTFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Ruby Bradley, who fought Midget Wolgast for the world flyweight boxing title in Brooklyn July 13, 1931, died Saturday. Bradley, 63, lost a 15-round decision to the champion.

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Rollie Beale of Toledo, driving a Chevrolet-powered car, won the 30-lap USAC spring car auto race Sunday at the half-mile Eldora Speedway.

Ohio Wesleyan went unbeaten in football last season for its third time in 77 years. After Coach Jack Fouts' team tied Albion in the opener, OW won its last eight games.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION:
"Prevention... worth an ounce of cure"

Over one million accidental poisonings occur yearly. A frightening number, over one third, happen to children under five. The National Safety Council Report lists over 1800 fatalities from accidental poisonings in a recent year ... practically 2% of all accidental deaths in the home. By observing a few simple rules you can prevent one of these tragedies from happening to your family. Prevent accidental poisonings by keeping poisons out of the reach of children and clearly label all poisonous substances. If poisoning does occur, call a doctor immediately, then administer emergency treatment. If you're unsure of the proper first-aid-for-poisoning procedure, now is a good time to learn it. Pick up a free Poison Antidote Chart at our Rexall Pharmacy today. Help reduce the unnecessarily high toll of tragic deaths due to accidental poisoning!

Sportsmen Plant Pin Oak Trees

NEW MADRID -- Members of the New Madrid County Sportsman's club met at the court house and went to the leased area of the Anderson-Tully Company to plant pin oak trees.

The trees are being planted to provide food for wildlife. Ross Hill is chairman of the project.

Eddie Clark was named to investigate the arrangements for a professional boat race, which the club is considering sponsoring.

Robert Shy and Virgil Burks were selected to be in charge of three wolf dogs the club is buying.

A mulligan stew, prepared by D. B. Aston and G. G. Dawson, were served to the 80 members attending the meeting Tuesday night at the Veteran's building.

The next meeting will be May 7.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)— Though he has missed much action this season because of a sprained knee, sophomore quarterback Rich Panczyczyn (PAN-sition) has much to look back on.

In his debut against Baylor his 88 rushing yards were more than the yards gained in a debut by previous sophomore wearers of No. 44.

All-America Floyd Little gained 82 yards in his varsity debut, Jim Brown 40 and Ernie Davis 30.

—Q—

"Can't the same people a funeral home has on call around the clock also be used to answer ambulance calls, thereby keeping costs down?"

—A—

Suppose a death occurred and you had to wait until funeral home personnel were back from an ambulance call before they could start helping your family. No . . . a funeral firm cannot in good conscience divide the time of its personnel between two such important duties.

WE LOOK, but do we see? We read, but do we comprehend? Photographer Larry Mulvehill, ever alert to the unusual or off-beat, found these amusing sign situations at New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; a Phoenix, Ariz., traffic court; the Florida Keys; a parking lot in Jacksonville, Fla.; and Water Mill, N.Y.

U.S. TROOPS AROUND THE WORLD

Fresh reinforcements for Vietnam pose tough choices for the administration: 1) Calling up reserves, 2) Increasing the draft, 3) Extending present tours of duty, 4) Diverting troops from Europe or Korea, or 5) Dipping deeper into already thinned-out contingency forces in the continental United States, now half what it was in January 1965, before the major Vietnam build-up. Most of the other U.S.-based troops are in training, instructors or performing various specialized and housekeeping functions. Underlined locations on map show where most overseas forces other than in Vietnam and Korea are stationed.

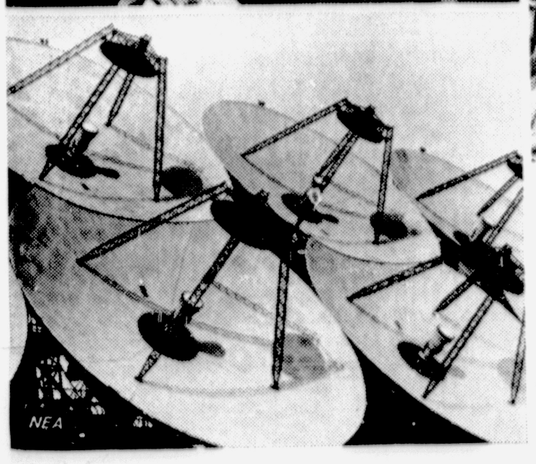

Soviet Space Curtain Lifted

Russia has admitted newsmen to high-security areas heretofore closed not only to foreigners, but to Soviets as well. At Star Village, a community exclusively for Russian cosmonauts and other persons connected with the Soviet space program, children play in kindergarten, above, while their fathers, below, attend classes at the Air Force Academy outside Moscow. At right, a trainee studies slide rule with cosmonaut Gherman Titov. Photos are highlights from a March 1 NBC News color special.

If You Were the Judge

Owner Not Responsible

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Tom was so thrifty he even made use of old razor blades. He shaved with them. In need of a new car, he hunted around for the best deal he could find. What he found, however, was trouble. He bought a car through an acquaintance that was so cheap that he boasted to his wife that it was almost like stealing. And, he wasn't that far wrong. He had bought a stolen car.

Unfortunately, he didn't discover it until he had spent over $500 in repairs. Returning the car to its owner, Tom demanded the return of the $500.

"Since you're getting back a car that's in tip-top condition," Tom argued, "you've got to pay me back what I spent on it."

"Not on your life," was the owner's answer. "I didn't tell you to fix my car. While I may be getting it back in better condition, I'll gladly thank you, but I won't pay you a penny."

And, he didn't. Tom sued for the return of his money in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit thrifty Tom to get his money back?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that an automobile owner cannot be held responsible for repairs to his vehicle when they are made without his knowledge or consent.

(Based upon a 1963 Florida Dist. Court Decision)

Ann Landers

Child Told Wrong Thing

Dear Ann Landers: Our seven-year-old daughter loved her grandpa very much. He was a kindly person who used to take Mary for walks and tell her fascinating stories. Grandpa passed away suddenly two weeks ago. The child was very unhappy about his passing away and it was hard for her to understand why a God who is good would take away her best friend.

Last week Mary was sitting on her grandmother's lap. I heard her ask if God would allow grandpa to play poker in heaven. Her answer was, "Of course not. God does not allow card playing in heaven." (Grandma always hated grandpa's card playing, and everyone knew it, especially grandpa.)

Mary was very sad about this and replied, "Oh, grandma, how too bad! That is what grandpa used to like to do best."

Later my wife and I were discussing the conversation. Do you think grandma was right to answer Mary as she did? ------ Q. Q.

Dear Q. Q.: No. The child was searching for reassurance that her grandpa was happy in heaven. It was not necessary for grandma to give her a small lecture on the moral aspect of cardplaying. If the child should bring up the subject again tell her no one knows for sure what goes on in heaven -- the very best a person can do is guess. And your guess is that grandpa is up there with aces back to back.

Dear Ann Landers: A great deal has been said to unwed mothers, but one seldom hears or reads anything directed to unwed fathers. Why? After all, it is the male who carries the seed of life. Does it not then seem logical that he be held accountable for his behavior?

I have three sons, two in their teens, and I have made it clear to all three boys that if they get a girl in trouble they are going to marry her -- regardless. No red-eyed miss is going to come to THIS house with her father at her side demanding that my son do the right thing. I wish you'd discuss this in your column, Ann Landers. It's a subject that needs airing. ---- MOTHER OF THREE

Dear Mother: I agree -- young men should be taught that they have a responsibility toward the girls they date. Most boys, unfortunately, think they are entitled to everything that is offered plus whatever they can talk a girl into.

On the other hand, I don't believe a forced marriage solves any problems. An unwilling groom makes a poor husband and a worse father.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married less than a year to a man who has many fine qualities, but -- he is an accomplished check dodger.

Whenever we are out with another couple, Norman manages to head for the men's room when he sees the waiter coming with the check. If his timing is poor and he is trapped at the table, he has a knack for looking the other way, or he is so slow about getting out his wallet that someone else pays. I hate for him to be a sponger and wonder why his friends let him get away with it. How can I put an end to it without hitting him head on? --------EMBARRASSED WIFE

Dear Wife: Since Norman seems to have an impediment in his reach, take matters into your own hands. Keep track of whose turn it is to pay and when it is Norman's turn, take the check from the waiter and hand it to him.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces is it love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35¢ in coin with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Prayer
from The Upper Room

One of them smote the servent of the high priest, and cut off his right ear . . . And he(Jesus) touched his ear, and healed him. (Luke 22;50-51)

PRAYER: Almighty God, help us to be more like Jesus as we journey through life. May we act according to the example of our Master, whose loved led Him to overcome evil with good. Grant us more of His spirit as we offer the prayer He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven. . .Amen."

DON'T SQUEEZE THE BALL

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) Middleguard Granville Liggins of the Oklahoma football team explains the secret of his fast charge this way:

"I watch the centers. They squeeze harder on the ball just before the snap or their arm muscles bulge more. When this happens, I'm going. I don't stand back and rassle with anyone any more."

Monan New Police Chief

50 years ago
April 8, 1918

The Sikeston city election was a quiet affair Tuesday and a light vote was polled. There were only two or three contests and these failed to create very much campaigning by others than the contesting candidates and even some of these did not do much of it. For a fat man, Tom Monan proved a good runner in the race of chief of police, defeating J. E. Forston, who had held the office for two years. Aulton Cravens, who had been city collector for two years, was defeated by Z. Schneider. The only other contest was that for alderman in the second ward, where J. H. Hayden won over John Young.

The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades of the local grammer school will present a play on April 17th at the Malone Theatre. Cast members include: Parker Adams and Byron Crain, Estell Meldrum, Irene Cox, Mary Ethel Prow, Elizabeth Welsh, Albert Bruton and Marvin Carroll.

James Johnson of Sikeston was one of eight Scott County boys, who left Monday for the army training camp at Funston, Kas.

The Sikeston board of education on Monday elected Miles C. Thomas of Vandalia, superintendent of the local schools for the coming year to succeed E. D. Lee, who has been the very efficient superintendent for several years.

A party of Sikeston citizens plan to leave tonight for Benton, Ill., to attend the hanging of Chas Birger, convicted murderer and gangster of Southern Illinois. Birger is to be hanged Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dempster delightfully surprised their son, Robert, Sunday by having a number of his young friends in for dinner, the occasion being his 16th birthday. The following guests were present: Noland White, Earl Keller, Conley Purcell, Dan McCoy, jr., Emory Rose and George Dempster.

Rural Electrificiation Administration headquarters in Washington in a communication received here Saturday announces the selection of H. M. Zaricor of Commerce as the superintendent of the Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi County Co-operative Association, which is constructing a 71-mile power line out of the city of Sikeston.

Landscape work on the Bailey School grounds has been completed and gives the school an attractive appearance. Many trees, shrubs and evergreens have been transplanted to the site. Grass has been shown on the grouns, which are so large it was deemed inadvisable to sod them.

Not even rated a "dark horse" in the competition, the Sikeston Bulldog track and field men pulled a mild surprise by placing second in the Scott-Mississippi meet Friday at Charleston as the host school romped off with first place by a heavy margin.

Washington -- Rep. Orville Zimmerman, 67, Missouri Democrat, died today in his office of a heart attack.

In observance of the completion of three years of operation in Sikeston and five in Blytheville, Hart's Bakery today is observing its anniversary.

In a light election yesterday, one new alderman was elected and three were re-elected. The new alderman is Jesse T. Chapman elected in Ward two over Harold Pitman. Re-elect as alderman were Vodrel Kirby in Ward one; Ray Aduddell in Ward three; and Thomas F. Raferty in Ward four. In the only other race in the city election, F. H. Smith was re-elected in a two man race over Brown Jewell.

Darrell Alcorn, who became ill yesterday and was taken to the Southeast Missouri Hospital at Cape Girardeau, this morning underwent an appendectomy at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Smith announce the arrival of a daughter born Tuesday morning, April 6, at the Sikeston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Grugett moved today from the Lindsay apartments to their new home on Taylor avenue.

Formal opening tomorrow of the J. C. Penney department store will disclose an entire new second floor in operation, making the store more than half again as large as it was before Emil E. Leighninger, manager, announced.

Nancy's Sweet Shop, a pastry bakery, will open Friday in the new Gilbert Clinton building on the corner of Highway 61, South, and East Kathleen street. E. F. Mouser is owner of the shop and associated with him will be Elwood Kinder, formerly a baker for Hart's and Welter's bakeries.

Approval of a vocational agriculture department for the high school was received early this week according to a statement made today by Bremen Van Bibber, superintendent of schools.

W. Z. Baker, present instructor in vocational agriculture at the high school, will handle the program.

Ralph E. Bailey, prominent Sikeston attorney, died this morning at St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau. He underwent an operation yesterday.

Curtis Bryant and Dick Smith, seniors on the high school basketball squad, were elected co-captains of the 1947-48 basketball team and tied for the title as the teams's most valuable player in an election announced yesterday by Coach Dean Owen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nicholson of Marion, Ind., announced the arrival of a son born April 6. Nicholson is a son of H. M. Nicholson, 315 Gladys street.

Illinois' six home football games this year drew 337,926, almost 40,000 more than ever had seen the Illini eleven at home before.

From the tragic Apollo disaster in January, through December's announcement of the first successful heart transplant, 1967 was a year packed with news events that shocked, heartened, thrilled and threatened our days.

The Boston Strangler—Leatherneck Square—Sinai Peninsula—Senate censure—Che Guevera—Hill 881—Dame Pattie, these are but a few of the names, places and events that recall the headlines of yesterday. Can you forget two wars, countless riots and protests, the gold crisis and hundred of other major news happenings?

They all live again in detailed stories and big, dramatic photos in The Associated Press' 296-page (60 pages in full color), hard-bound volume.

As a member of The Associated Press, this newspaper makes this highly acclaimed annual volume available to you at the special price of $3.50. It is an exceptional buy for the informed reader. To order, simply fill out the coupon, mail it with your remittance to the address indicated.

Today In U.S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, April 8, the 99th day of 1968. There are 267 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1513, in Spanish explorer, Ponce de Leon, landed in Florida, seeking the fountain of youth.

On this date-

In 1730, the first Jewish congregation to be organized in America consecrated its synagogue in New York City. The congregation dated back to 1655.

In 1826, Secretary of State Henry Clay fought a duel with Sen. John Randolph of Virginia. Neither was hurt.

In 1865, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant asked Gen. Robert E. Lee to surrender. Lee sent a note asking the terms of peace.

In 1904, France and Britain signed the "Entente Cordiale," beginning an era of close cooperation between the two poers.

In 1939, King Zog of Albania fled from Italian occupation forces.

In 1952, President Harry S. Truman siezed the steel industry to try to avert a general strike.

Ten years ago - The Soviet Union and West Germany reached agreement on the repatriation of German citizens from Russia.

Five years ago-Egypt, Syria and Iraq agreed to form a unionist state.

One year ago - The casualty toll in the crash of a South Korean plane in Seoul rose to 55 dead, six missing and 30 injured.

Rev. King Given Local Sentiment

Tributes to the Rev. Martin Luther King were made by several Sikeston religious and city leaders Saturday at a meeting in the Masonic Lodge in Sunset and a special memorial service was held Sunday.

A march in honor of the Rev. Mr. King's death had been discussed but was called off.

Mourning, repentence and love were the three themes emphasized in a worship and memorial service held at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Hunter Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The special service was called by the Rev. Lindy Cannon, pastor, for those concerned with the state of our country in the aftermath of the death of Dr. King.

About 170 persons attended the service conducted by ministers of different affiliations.

The Rev. J. W. Gwinn, pastor of the Westend Baptist Church, gave the opening prayer. The Rev. Mr. Cannon read from the Scriptures on each theme, then the Rev. Fr. Robert Schumacher, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, gave a meditation on the theme and the Rev. Joseph Wagner, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read a litany prayer following the meditation.

A special meeting for all concerned with the problems of housing and jobs in Sikeston will be announced from all pulpits Easter Sunday.

A memorial tribute was paid to the work of King in the Saturday meeting by several ministers.

A resolution passed Saturday morning by the city council expressing the city's sympathy at the death of the Rev. Mr. King and affirming the city's belief in the principles of nonviolence was read at the meeting by Mayor Kendall Sikes. It acknowledged King as a great force in America for the settlement of its racial problems on a nonviolent basis.

Negro leaders noted that no violence took place in Sikeston and none was likely to result following the death of King.

All persons attending emphasized support in the principles of nonviolence and asked the white community for more commitment to the cause of equality.

Willie Dixon, president of the Scott County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called on businessmen in the community to open the doors of opportunity for jobs to Negroes.

Better housing and jobs, the two most needed items of Negroes in Sikeston, were discussed by most speakers.

Violence was condemned and the work of Martin Luther King was praised.

Wind Causes Damage in Stoddard

DEXTER -- The Dexter area seemed to have missed the brunt of the windstorm that moved through this area with the heavy rain Wednesday night but there were reports of minor damage.

There were reported of minor damage to homes, television antennas damaged, storm doors damaged, farm buildings damaged, and the like, throughout the area.

Several signs and awnings were reported damaged at Bloomfield, but damage was not extensive.

In the Powe area, southwest of Dexter, power and telephone lines were reported damaged, but there was no report of heavy loss.

Insurance agents reported calls reporting damage.

Head Start Program in Morehouse

MOREHOUSE - The Morehouse schools will operate a summer Head Start program under the auspices of Missouri University beginning June 3 at the new elementary school.

This program if offered to children from low income families. The order of preference will be: (1) those who have never attended kindergarten and are eligible to begin school in September, 1968 (2) those who are in the kindergarten program but will profit from further Kindergarten instruction to prepare them for the 1st grade next year. (3) those who are too young to enter the Kindergarten program next September (a child must be five years of age before Sept. 15).

Parents, who have children who qualify for this program, may attend pre-enrollment sessions at its school Tuesday, at 6:30 p.m.

Kidnap Law Provision Ruled Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — The death penalty provision of the Lindbergh kidnaping law was ruled unconstitutional today by the Supreme Court.

In a 6-2 decision, the court said the provision, enacted by Congress in 1934, discourages the exercise of basic constitutional rights.

Blast Toll Reaches 42

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Searchers found three more bodies today in the rubble of Richmond's business district hit by explosions and fire during a busy shopping day, state police said, raising the known death toll to 42.

Only 25 bodies have been identified and state police still list 21 persons missing.

Noles Abstains In Voting

Taylor Noles, city councilman and former vice mayor for 7½ years, read a statement at the Saturday morning meeting of the city council declaring he did not wish to vote in the election.

From the tone of the statement Noles apparently wanted to be mayor.

He declared in the statement that he "did not believe as Mr. Sikes and Mr. Ziegenhorn do, that Mr. Sikes is the only councilman qualified to serve as mayor."

He stated that in his opinion under the manager-council form of government that the business of running the city was the function of the city manager and council's function was to serve as the governing body. He said he felt that any of the five councilmen are qualified to represent the city.

Mayor Kendall Sikes was re-elected mayor and council Arthur Ziegenhorn was elected vice mayor in the meeting. Councilmen Paul Jobe and Lee Shell attended. All voted except Noles.

Oil Company ... President Dies
